IRISH CAMPAIGN IS MARKED BY FACTION FIGHTS

Battles at Meetings in Dublin and Elsewhere at Week-end Leave Little Hope of Peace and Calm Discussion Between Now and Polling January 24

Stones Thrown And Loudspeakers Wrecked

Dublin, Jan. 9.—Over the wide front of the Irish Free State 200 candidates are already in the field battling for control of the next Dail Eireann.

A week-end of disorder and rioting at election meetings left a feeling of gloom throughout the country. There was little hope for peace during the remainder of the campaign, which will end January 24, polling day. Thirty persons in Dublin, including a woman and a child, to-day were nursing injuries suffered in a fight yesterday between Republican sympathizers who sought to break up a meeting of the National Party and police reinforced by members of the Army Comrades Association.

Dr. T. F. O'Higgins, leader of the "White Army" as the Army Comrades are called, said there would be free speech in the campaign for one party only. The Republicans rendered the speakers virtually inaudible by heckling, shouting and singing popular songs.

There was some firing of revolvers, but so far as could be learned no one was injured by gunfire.

Thus with two weeks to go, the campaign swings along in its turbulent way with the Republican platforms ringing with the old battle cry of "No Domination by England."

SENSATIONAL ARREST SOON

Los Angeles "Man About Town" Accused of Robbing Betty Compton

Associated Press
Los Angeles, Jan. 9.—A sensational turn in the investigation of the $37,000 Betty Compton jewelry robbery was forecast to-day by Chief of Detectives Joseph F. Taylor, who said a Hollywood "man about town" was under surveillance for the crime, as well as for other recent film colony robberies.

The arrest of the individual, Taylor said, would amount to the film colony Chief Taylor said the man had served as an intermediary for crimes and robberies in the past, locating the jewelry, collecting the money for its return and supposedly giving the loot to the bandits.

Mystery was added to the case to-day when it was learned that Miss Compton and her manager, Irving Weinberg, had made an alleged seven-mile-an-hour dash along the Coast Highway near Newport Beach late Saturday night.

Weinberg was arrested for speeding in Miss Compton's car after a ten-mile chase.

Old Council Has Its Last Meeting

Mayor Says Advance Payments on Taxes on Hand to Meet Interest Coupon Payments

Canadian Press
North Vancouver, Jan. 9.—The civic election in North Vancouver will go ahead next Thursday despite any applications that may be made for appointment of a commissioner for the city by the British Columbia Government. Mayor E. H. Bridgman announced this to-day.

The final meeting of the retiring council will be held this evening, starting at 7 p.m., when Mayor Bridgman, who is not seeking re-election, will recommend all interest coupons for October and November be paid immediately.

He stated $23,000 in advance payments on taxes was available for this purpose, and if the $15,000 due from North Vancouver District could be collected immediately it would ease the situation to the end of 1932 considerably.

He will recommend this evening that Dugald Donaghy, K.C., solicitor for the city, pay the $200 due to A. F. Tero, ratepayer, whose application for appointment of a commissioner will come up in court on Thursday.

Mr. Tero, in papers filed last Saturday, asks the court to order a commissioner for the city and the ground that fifty interest coupons have been presented when due and not paid.

These proceedings differ from those heard by Mr. Justice Fisher last Friday, to the extent that they were instituted by an elector and not a creditor.

Scrip Proposal Is Before New Council of Calgary To-day

Suggestion Is City Issue $1,000,000 in Domestic Certificates; Bank Credit For City Under Discussion

Calgary, Jan. 9.—Calgary's 1933 City Council will get its initiation this morning into the intricacies of finance and credit with a $1,000,000 scrip proposal added, the session may be the longest the aldermen will have to face. Bumped about since the city fathers refused to pay $300,000 in exchange for maturing debentures in February, the council will find its way formally into the council's records to-night. Aldermen F. J. White, M.P.P., Labor, and Alderman Harry Humble, Independent, will ask appointment of a committee to decide on feasibility of the plan. The aldermanic pair will cite the issue of relief tickets as precedent for scrip, and declare legal technicalities which the city solicitor feared have been surmounted. The scrip would not be money; it would be promissory notes in payment for city services or assistance.

RANK NEGOTIATIONS

Brought to a temporary halt by the credit offer which removed possibility of shutdown of civic affairs, negotiations with the bank regarding stipulations for the credit will be discussed. On the outcome of the meeting, negotiations will be resumed. A $100,000 scrip issue of one-seventh of the total revenue would be conservative and would add the city in numerous ways without causing any harm. The scrip would be used for all purposes—payment of light and power bills, purchase of street car tickets and similar services as well as payment of taxes.

TECHNICALITIES OVERCOME

The scrip proposal was outlined by Mr. Humble yesterday evening. He declared technicalities under Dominion monetary laws, cited by opponents of the plan, had been overcome and the legality of Calgary issuing scrip was removed from doubt.

DE PACHMANN,
PIANIST, DIES

Famous Russian Master Died Saturday at Rome in Eighty-fifth Year

Rome, Jan. 9.—Arrangements were being made to-day for the funeral of the late Vladimir de Pachmann, the famous Russian-born pianist, who became an Italian citizen in 1928, died here Saturday at the home of his manager, Francis Pallottelli, in Rome. He was in his eighty-fifth year.

Many critics of music agree that Vladimir de Pachmann was not only a brilliant master of the piano but in his time, one of the greatest interpreters of Chopin.

With those who held that opinion he had no quarrel, but he took sharp issue with the ones who, because of his peculiar mannerisms, help him up as a "freak" and eccentric virtuoso.

One of his critics penned this estimation of de Pachmann: "Although his individuality is too strong and too little under control to allow of his being considered a perfect player of concerted music, and in spite of many eccentricities of manner which do not diminish as time goes on yet as a solo player, he is justly admired."

Another, more severe, wrote: "He makes faces like a monkey and chatters incessantly to his audiences and otherwise wastes as much of the works of Chopin, he is justly admired."

Seeking to blight the criticism of his behavior, de Pachmann wrote an article in 1923 defending his playing while playing and indignantly denied he did these things for effect. Rather, he insisted, they were absolutely necessary if he were really to express "what is in his soul and clamoring for soulful expression."

He recalled that on one of his American tours he refrained from speaking at all during a recital.

"Not only was I strain terrible to me," he wrote of that experience, "but I received letters containing expressions of disappointment at my departure from the usual."

He summed up his reply with "Anything which is not severely ordinary is eccentricity."

De Pachmann was born July 27, 1848, at Odessa, where his father, an amateur violinist of considerable note, was a professor in the conservatory. The elder de Pachmann, before taking up his residence in Russia, had lived in Vienna, where he frequently came in contact with Beethoven, Weber and other celebrated musicians of the time.

Vladimir, until he was eighteen, was taught music by his father. He then entered the conservatory at Vienna, where he remained ten years, won the gold medal and returned to his native city in 1869. In that country he made his debut as a concert pianist in a series of recitals, which were highly successful.

The young pianist, however, was dissatisfied with his own performances and for eight years thereafter he refused to appear in public. During that time he devoted himself to incessant study and practice and at the end of his long period of self-imposed probation he appeared in concerts at Leipzig and Berlin. Again he was the recipient of the highest praise and was offered more than 200 engagements and once more retired for two years.

Finally achieving ability that satisfied his own critical mind, de Pachmann appeared in Vienna, Paris and London, all of which were brilliant successes. Eventually he played in all the principal cities of Europe and made several concert tours in the United States and Canada.

At a recital at London in 1925, de Pachmann created somewhat of a surprise by declining to play Chopin's Funeral March in honor of the late Queen Alexandra. He last played the march shortly after the death of King Edward VII, for whom he had a great affection because the king had been so kind to him and because he had been a great patron of music. The king's death that he made a vow never to play that funeral march again.

"I hope it won't seem disrespectful to the gracious queen," he apologized, "when I declare I simply cannot bring myself to play it."

"We have recently been advised by one of the operating companies here that Victoria citizens, when traveling by plane to Vancouver cannot understand why it is that Canadian Aircraft operated by a Canadian company is forced to use Esquimalt Harbor with the additional inconvenience and added expense of fifty cents for taxi."

"The flight with England is in its last phase," declared James George, Minister of Justice, at Athlone. "All of which of course is mainly inspired by the desire to save the land annuities. But it goes deeper than that."

"I have reason to know," Sean Lemass, Minister of Industry and Commerce, said to Tipperary voters, "that Britain maintains an extensive secret service in the Free State. I learned it while attending the Ottawa conference, where my colleagues and I were shown reports received from Ireland by Mr. Thomas."

Another side of the economic war with Great Britain appears in the emergence of the independent farmer candidates and the National Farmers' and Raters' League.

At the Cosgrave party meeting here yesterday crowds sympathetic to the voice of Valera drowned out the speakers and the platform during periods in which there was no violence with a concerted singing of "Daisy, Give Me Your Answer, Do," a popular song which climaxed with the lines about a honeymoon "on a bicycle built for two."

General Richard Mulcahy, a member of the late Dail Eireann, was shouted down and his speech was cut short. Police had difficulty in protecting Mrs. Collins O'Driscoll, sister of the late Michael Collins, for a time Minister of Finance in the Dail Cabinet, from a rush by the crowd when she arose to speak.

The Army Comrades Association, which has been in hand with the police to quell the disturbances while Gen. Mulcahy and the other speakers, carried on against great odds.

Rocks were thrown and loudspeakers were torn down. The speakers were heckled mercilessly by a crowd of pro-De Valera songs. At one time there was danger of the speakers' platform itself being overwhelmed, but each time the police were able to beat back the crowd with their clubs.

Police reinforcements were rushed to the scene, but even then they were unable to cope with the situation and the disturbance continued until the meeting had run its course.

There appeared to have been no serious injuries.

A concerted attack was made on the speakers as they left O'Connell Street. Bricks and stones were thrown and the police were able to save them from injury only by a liberal use of their batons.

A crowd later gathered in front of the headquarters of the Army Comrades Association and a free-for-all battle developed in which several persons were injured and windows in the building broken.

Indians Country Without Brains Can Have Self-government

Canadian Press
Bombay, India, Jan. 9.—Brain power is not needed by a country desiring self-government, Bernard Shaw, British author, here yesterday told Indians desirous of autonomy for their country.

"England has got on very well for years without brains," Mr. Shaw said. The author said he did not intend to travel in India, but if Mahatma Gandhi indicated he wished to see him, he would go to Poon.

"Gandhi is the clearest-headed man in India, but is so tired of you all that he goes on a fast unto death," Mr. Shaw declared.

"Enlightened Indians have a great power of speech," said the author. "Scratch an Indian and he reels off seventeen volumes of Herbert Spencer. The first thing a self-governing India must do is to make public speaking a capital offense."

Mr. Shaw said he was not interested in untouchability. "We have untouchability in England," he added. "As the laborer who wants to marry a duchess's daughter knows."

ILLINOIS COAL FIELD BOMBINGS

Store Owned By Chief of Police Wrecked; Rival Factions Contest

Associated Press
Taylorville, Ill., Jan. 9.—Two bombs were exploded in the Christian County coal region yesterday, both in business establishments operated by persons thought to be in sympathy with the new Progressive Miners' Union Movement.

Property damage estimated at $10,000 was caused by the explosives. No one was injured.

A Kincaid Albert store, owned by Police Chief Albert Matosza, already charged with murder in connection with the mine disorders there January 5, was the target for the first bomb.

A powerful charge of black powder wrecked the interior to a mass of debris and wrecked living apartments on the second floor. The force of the explosion shattered windows for several hundred yards.

The second bomb was hurled into the Taylorville lunch stand of John Crapine, which Sheriff Charles Wieseke described as a meeting place for persons opposed to the United Mine Workers of America organization.

SEARCH FOR EXPLOSIVES
The bombings were followed by orders from military officials for a series of raids throughout the district on places suspected of harboring rebel union factionists, with explosives and firearms.

Christian County has been under military rule since renewal of hostilities between factions last week, when three persons were killed and nearly a score wounded.

Reported Dominion Government Will Ask Provincial Governments' Views at Conference in Ottawa Starting January 17

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 9.—The Bureau of Statistics is rushing compilation of the information gathered at the last census on unemployment to have it in readiness when the representatives of the provinces meet here with Dominion government spokesmen to discuss unemployment insurance. The conference will begin January 17. A dispatch from Victoria tells of reports there that "hunger marches" will converge on Ottawa and the provincial capitals on the same date.

The main discussions of the conference are expected to have to do with unemployment, although the question of taxation is also on the agenda. The respective rights of the Dominion and the provinces to collect income taxes overlap and this meeting may lead to an understanding on the matter.

It is not improbable the Dominion Government will consult the provincial representatives as to its plans for changing the Bank Act. Reports here are that the Federal Government will not go so far as to form a central bank, but will have the Finance Act altered to meet the present conditions.

CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTIONS
Toronto, Jan. 9.—Notice has reached the Ontario government that the forthcoming Dominion-provincial conference at Ottawa will be of a purely inter-governmental nature. In view of the fact that most of the questions on the agenda are of a constitutional nature, federal authorities do not consider it feasible to include non-governmental advisers in the various delegations.

This information dispelled the hope of the Trade and Labor Congress of Canada that it would have a representative at the gathering.

BANNED BY POLICE

Montreal, Jan. 9.—Police here state the unemployed conference committee here planned to send a delegation of unemployed to the old courthouse building January 17 to seek an interview with Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier of Quebec, to discuss employment and demand non-contributory unemployment insurance.

The delegation, according to the police, would be backed by members of the Communist Party, and would be prevented from reaching its objective.

$2,000,000,000 DEFICIT FOR U.S.

Washington Believes Cost Cutting Not Enough to Balance the Budget

Sales Tax Unlikely, While Income Tax Yield Faces Drop of $60,000,000

Washington, Jan. 9.—Indications of a deficit of more than $2,000,000,000 for the 1932-33 fiscal year were observed by experts to-day when it became certain that the first six months ending Saturday would show an excess of expenditures over receipts of about $1,150,000,000.

With the general sales tax unlikely to go through at the present session of Congress, in the face of President-elect Roosevelt's opposition, officials ceased to regard it as a possible budget-balancing factor for the 1933-34 fiscal year.

High tax rates on low incomes were frowned upon and it was also felt that Congress would not approve high rates on the normal tax. While cost-cutting, as proposed by Governor Roosevelt, met the approval of officials, it was pointed out that to balance the budget additional revenue would also be necessary.

The present deficit compares with one of $1,380,551,606 a year ago. The year-end deficit in the 1931 calendar year was the same. By June 30 that deficit grew to $2,885,000,000. Official estimates for this year's deficit were $1,644,631,000, on the basis of full payment of the war debts but with no provision for additional revenues.

The interest payment due on war debts was $95,094,669, which may be treated as receipts available for government purposes. The principal payment of $73,499,881 is applicable to retirement of outstanding government obligations.

Some of the debts due December 15 were defaulted and some postponed. It is believed that unless the general revision requested by the debtors takes place before June 15, payments then due will be postponed or defaulted.

The 1934 payments on foreign debts comprise $205,724,462 in interest and $123,018,315 in principal as well as the first payment on the debts postponed by the moratorium.

For the 1934 fiscal year, when the administration planned a balanced budget with the exception of debt retirement, the estimated deficit was $84,262,487, including $534,070,300 for statutory debt retirement.

The business situation during the calendar year has been so unsatisfactory that there will be a substantial reduction in the estimated yield on income taxes at the March and June payments. Indications point to a total collection of about $800,000,000, whereas the estimate was $880,000,000.

Income tax collections for the fiscal year amounted to $341,596,455, or $270,186,000 under a year ago. The December collection of $116,322,000, on the basis of the 1928 revenue act, had reached $138,845,512, as compared with $253,808,043 in 1931.

Miscellaneous internal revenue receipts for July 1 to December 27 were $283,271,822, an increase of $116,232,000 over last year as a result of new taxes. The December 1-27 collection was $69,951,627, indicating about $84,000,000 for the month, whereas with the new levies an average of about $100,000,000 a month had been expected.

Total receipts for the fiscal year up to last Tuesday were $1,012,636,205, as compared with $1,136,322,000 the year before, while expenditures were $2,163,524, as against $2,516,973,809.

At the end of the year the debt will be about $20,800,000,000, or an increase of $2,980,000,000 over December, 1931. During the fiscal year new issues of the debt total $4,635,622,624, a reduction of about $664,000,000 from the previous period, and retirements were $3,301,414,819, a reduction of $997,000,000.

TWO BLIND MEN JOIN IN FIGHT

Oakland, Calif., Jan. 9.—Two blind men fought for the love of a woman here yesterday, police said, and one of them fell, seriously wounded from repeated knife thrusts.

Joseph Parker, forty-five, the wounded man, was reported near death to-day at the hospital to which he was taken and his alleged assailant, Manuel Milwauke, thirty-eight, living at a home for the blind, was in jail.

Police said the woman, whose charms caused her sightless admirers to battle after they had cane-tapped their way to her home, was Elena Aguilar, forty-five, not blind.

BENNETT MAY CUT CABINET

Disappearance of Portfolios of Interior and Railways Mooted at Ottawa

Could Function as Efficiently and More Economically With Reduced Cabinet, Admitted

Ottawa, Jan. 9.—Rumors of a partial reorganization of the Bennett Cabinet, involving the disappearance of the portfolios of the interior and railways and canal, have been engaging the attention of the capital.

The Parliamentary correspondent of The Toronto Mail and Empire, chief government supporter, in a special article said that while nothing in the way of official confirmation was offered for these reports, the plan was said to originate with Premier Bennett.

Mr. Bennett was attributed the opinion that the administration could function as efficiently and at less cost by the elimination of one of the present nineteen Cabinet Ministers, and the carving up of these departments.

Hon. R. J. Macdonald, Minister of Railways and Canals, would assume another portfolio of equal importance, it was declared. Dr. Manion's position in his party and in the country is too important to permit of his being overlooked in any cabinet shuffle. As to the future of the interior, in the event of his present department being abolished, the rumors are less definite. It was believed, however, that he would remain in the cabinet.

These rumors added fuel to the discussion of a general election next year which has been simmering in Ottawa since the Imperial Conference. At the same time, it was agreed that no definite indications of the government's intentions as to an election or as to a cabinet reorganization could be expected until the second stage of the present parliamentary session, opening on January 30, is well advanced.

Since 1890 when the western provinces were given back the natural resources such as water powers, formerly administered for them by the federal authority, the Interior Department has lost much of its importance. It still has many duties to perform in the scheme of government, but the Premier, according to the present talk, believes that these tasks could be turned over to other departments.

This is not a new proposal. During the session of 1930 when the natural resources were returned to the provinces, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, then Prime Minister, indicated that if he were returned in the impending general election, he would abolish the Interior Department.

If Parliament adopts the recommendations of the Duff-Railway Commission, the Railways and Canals Department will be shorn of many of its present functions. Under the Duff report, the Interior Department would have complete charge of railway financing. The Canada department, it is stated, would be turned over to either the public works or the marine department.

Much of the government's work in connection with C.N.R. financing is already done by the finance department. What duties in this regard remain with the railway department would be taken over by the finance department, under this arrangement, it is said. The Interior Department would have complete charge of railway financing. The Canada department, it is stated, would be turned over to either the public works or the marine department.

Decisions are generally preceded by a period of preparation and nothing of that kind is being done or even being contemplated, as far as can be learned, by the Conservative Party at the present time. The Liberals, on the other hand, are getting together a new national organization.

TARIFF CHANGES TO AID FARMERS

Grain Exchange Dealers Suggest New Course to United States Government

Chicago, Jan. 9.—Grain dealers of the United States propose a farm relief bill, based on tariff reductions to promote the sale abroad of commodity surpluses.

Representatives of the major grain exchanges, according to a statement, look with disfavor on acreage reduction by a domestic allotment, but urge solution of "the real problem by bringing farm prices into equilibrium with general commodity prices and by closing the gap that has brought ruin to agriculture."

"Use the tariff to help sell agricultural products of which we produce a surplus and thereby make the tariff directly effective for the farmer," said the survey. "Relief must include a friendly willingness to join in reciprocal trade."

The recommendations were made by the grain committee on national affairs, sponsored by the exchanges at Chicago, Buffalo, Duluth, Kansas City, Lincoln, Minneapolis, St. Louis, St. Paul, Omaha and St. Louis and by the Grain Dealers' National Association.

SUGAR YIELDED BY SUNFLOWER

Plant Formerly Regarded As Persistent Weed Elevated By Iowa Investigations

Ames, Ia., Jan. 9.—Corn belt farmers have for years thought of the Jerusalem artichoke, commonly known as the wild sunflower, merely as a persistent weed.

This plant is now regarded in a different light, for agricultural workers in Iowa State College see in it the basis for producing levulose, a very sweet sugar. On the roots of this straggling plant are tubers resembling small sweet potatoes—that store up sugar.

Through the perfection here of a "semi-commercial" process, levulose is now being marketed at one-sixth to one-twentieth of what it cost a year ago.

Sirising honors of perfecting the new process are professors John Buchanan, R. M. Hixon, J. H. McElmurry and J. W. Eichinger Jr.

TWO-HEADED TURTLE DIES

Schenectady, N.Y., Jan. 9.—A two-headed snapping turtle, which spent most of its lifetime trying to decide which way to go, died yesterday in a research laboratory here.

On Saturday, when the left head died, the turtle appeared in a quandary, according to the laboratory staff, as to which way to walk, when to sleep and when to stay awake.

FARMERS BACK BARTER PLAN

Ontarians Call For United Protest Against Bennett's Reported Refusal

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 9.—Headquarters of the United Farmers of Ontario have issued an official request to the United Farmers' organizations throughout the province to call mass meetings at the earliest opportunity in protest against Premier Bennett's reported refusal to aid consummation of the Russian oil-Canadian cattle barter.

"It is reported, from Ottawa, that the Federal Government intends to turn down the proposal for exchange of Canadian cattle and hides for Russian oil and oil," the manifesto declared. "Are they do it? If they do, a storm of protest from the farm people of Canada should be so pronounced as to make them fear the consequences."

"Here is a great opportunity for the Canadian government to do something to help our agricultural industry which is already impoverished by the danger line. Not only does it mean so much to our sorely distressed rural population, but the return of purchasing power which the market for cattle and hides would bring would mean new life to our stagnated industrial machine all along the line."

"An exchange of goods between nations is something world nations must have to-day and obstacles in the way will have to be swept aside," the manifesto declared.

CHURCH APPEAL FOR NEW FUND

Anglicans Throughout Canada Asked to Aid Rupert's Land

Synod of Columbia Diocese to Receive Primate's Message Before Churches

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 9.—Most Rev. C. L. Worrell, Archbishop of Nova Scotia and Primate of the Church of England in Canada, in a message read in most of the Anglican churches throughout the Dominion Sunday, announced establishment of a fund to raise approximately $760,000 to replace the lost endowments of the ecclesiastical province of Rupert's Land.

The losses include the whole of the Episcopal and other endowments of five missionary dioceses.

"The welfare and honor of the church require that the work be maintained and that the lost endowments be replaced," the Primate said in his message. "This is the double task which now confronts the church."

The first—the maintenance of the work—is being provided for by contributions, furnished by the bishops and clergy, together with a levy of seven per cent on the stipends of the officials and agents paid directly by the Missionary Society.

"For the second—the replacement of the lost endowments—I now announce with great confidence that an appeal will be made to the laity during the week of April 23-30."

Right Rev. C. D. Schofield, Bishop of Columbia, this morning stated the Primate's appeal had been received but would not be read in the churches of this diocese until after being presented to the synod at its meeting in February.

CHAMP DRIVER

Vancouver, Jan. 9.—Steep increases in income tax in the higher grades and reduction of interest rates are advocated by Prof. W. A. Carrothers of the University of British Columbia department of economics.

Addressing the West Point Grey Liberal association, he said demands for reductions in social services were based on the assumption that the world in these matters and whatever education and the care of the helpless must be carried on efficiently whatever happened. British Columbia was one of the most enlightened countries in the world in these matters and whatever education and the care of the helpless must be carried on efficiently whatever happened.

Conversion of bonds to low interest rates could not be carried out in Canada with the same certainty as in England, he said, because of the lack of a central bank to co-operate in forcing general interest rates down.

The National Liberal candidate, Hendershaw Stewart, native of Grief, Joseph Westwood, former member of the Commons for Peebles and a former Under-Secretary for Scotland, is carrying the banner for the Labor Party.

J. L. Anderson, is running under the colors of Lord Beaverbrook's Agricultural Party, and the fourth candidate is Eric Linklater, Scottish Nationalist.

A preliminary estimate by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics places the value of Canada's field crops for 1932 at $424,037,900, as compared with $426,636,400 in 1931 and $62,040,900 in 1930.

Former Premier Says Right and Centre Parties Pushing France Toward Isolation; Friendship Declared Peace Guarantee

Paris, Jan. 9.—Former Premier Edouard Herriot, in an article in Le Democrat at the week-end, expressed fear for Franco-British friendship, which he said he had tried so hard to foster before his overthrow last month.

He declared this friendship was an essential condition to peace.

"Again the right and centre are pushing us toward isolation," said the former leader of the parliamentary left bloc.

Discussing the question of the debts owed the United States, he said: "I remain convinced that in order to arrive some day at modification of the present contract with the United States, my method was the best, most wise and honest."

The demand among Nova Scotia farmers for agricultural limestone is so great that a provincial government crushing plant started recently at Pugwash, N.S., is running two shifts a day.

The total value of production of the fisheries of Canada for the year 1931 was $30,317,508, compared with $47,807,216 in 1930 and $53,516,521 in 1929.

HON. DR. MANION AND THE WORLD'S ILLS

When Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways in the Dominion government, speaks in a non-political atmosphere he always says something worth while. He spoke to the Canadian Club at Quebec on Saturday on the causes of the present condition of the world. He named them as follows: The war and the ensuing war debts, the rise of Soviet Russia to commercial prominence, lack of stabilization in commodity prices and the too rapid development of machinery without similar development in social legislation.

Dr. Manion declared that the improvement of social legislation should have closely paralleled the development of producing machinery which threw thousands of men out of employment. He should have included high tariffs in his inventory. He discounted the technocrats on the ground that it is the duty of industrialists to make provisions for the workers as well as for machines, "especially in times like these when the purely human side of unemployment, the suffering and thwarting of growth which goes with it, appeals so strongly to us." The Minister rounded off his speech by urging less "passing the buck" in attempts to diagnose present ills.

From Dr. Manion's reference to social legislation we may assume that he is a supporter of the proposal of unemployment insurance which the conference of provincial representatives will discuss at Ottawa on January 17. This form of assistance for the worker has been attacked more or less violently in some quarters, from which there comes frequently the complaint that there is too much social legislation in Canada; even old age-pensions and widows' pensions are tolerated in those quarters with a very bad grace. He would be a hardy soul, however, who would advocate the abolition of this legislation in British Columbia, for example.

What seems to be lost sight of in any discussion of unemployment insurance is the fact that it would be on a contributory basis, participated in by the worker, the employer, and the state. Yet it is termed the dole. Canada is already on the dole in its worst possible form, with the state—meaning the taxpayers as a whole—footing the bill in its entirety.

We rather like Dr. Manion's suggestion that there is too much "passing the buck" in attempts to diagnose present ills. We do not know whether he was obliquely thinking of the government of which he is a member, or was merely telling his audience that he personally was "fed up" with the lack of co-operation in Canada, and the world generally. In any case he has seen a good deal of "passing the buck" in the last two years.

POLITICAL POT BOILING OVER IN FREE STATE

Free State Ireland's first week of the whirlwind election campaign which will end on January 24 was wound up yesterday in a hectic fashion. In various parts of the country large forces of police and auxiliaries were required to deal with the somewhat boisterous methods employed by the supporters of both parties. In the midst of a spirited defence of the policy his government followed during its term of office, coupled with promises of what he would do if again called upon to head the ministry, former President William T. Cosgrave found himself the target for a hefty stone hurled by one of his opponent's supporters. As luck would have it, the aim was poor, and the shot hit the platform rail. In the next two weeks, of course, there is every likelihood that several heads will be cracked, for this election is unlike any other since the establishment of the Free State.

The issues have been clearly outlined by the two party chiefs. Former President Cosgrave, who leads the principal opposition in the Dail Eireann, set out with the statement that "the Fianna Fail"—the De Valera party—"are on the run before the people's wrath and their own accumulated folly, and, of course, they are in full flight from the public." He followed this on Saturday with this clear statement of policy: "We intend to end economic war within three days after our return to power and to make a trade agreement with Britain which will secure a return to farmers of the market lost to them by the pernicious policy of the present government." He then proceeded:

Our policy is one of honorable and advantageous peace with our neighbors, revision of our financial obligations to Britain, securing for our farmers by way of reduction in their annuities of the full benefits of such revision, and the reasonable and constructive reconsideration of existing tariffs, accompanied by a general lowering of taxation. We have the greatest confidence in approaching Britain for a settlement of our differences.

We are in a worse position than Denmark, which is not in the Commonweath, buying as we do ninety per cent of our imports from Britain, whilst Denmark, selling her sixty per cent of her exports, buys only thirteen per cent of her imports from her.

President de Valera does not seem to fear the result of the elections. He replied to Mr. Cosgrave with the statement that the Irish people were heartily behind the steps he has taken to "free Ireland from English economic domination." He has made it clear that if his government shall be re-elected, he will at once reintroduce legislation to remove the oath of allegiance to the King from the constitution.

When Mr. Cosgrave says his opponents are in "flight from the republic" he is not far wrong because Mr. de Valera himself said some time ago

—according to Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas and The London Times—that "the only real and permanent solution of Irish difficulties" is "a united Irish republic with some sort—I have never been able to define the sort—of connection with the British Empire."

This may sound all very well. But it would be interesting to learn just how Mr. de Valera would argue that Ireland can be within and yet outside the British system, avoiding its obligations but enjoying its benefits. We presume he believes that the majority of the people of the six counties of Northern Ireland could be persuaded that it would be to their advantage to become part of an independent republic "with some sort of connection with the British Empire." The word "persuaded" would seem to be the right one, since, as Mr. de Valera is an ex-president of the Council of the League of Nations, the thought of coercion surely would not enter his mind. Meanwhile, however, no hint has come from Ulster that it is even in the mood to be persuaded to change its present constitutional status.

At this distance it would appear that the chief problem exercising the minds of the great majority of the voters of the Free State is not whether the oath of allegiance shall remain in the constitution or not, but whether that part of Ireland shall become a republic of its own or join the six Northern Counties in a complete national constitutional overhaul, but what is going to happen to business if the economic battle with Great Britain shall be allowed to continue. If in the face of these conditions, Mr. de Valera shall be given a clear mandate to go his own way, that business will suffer. Mr. Cosgrave has offered to negotiate with Britain and end the feud. The issue is clear enough.

CANADIAN NATIONAL READY FOR BUSINESS REVIVAL

The statement covering the operations of the Canadian National Railways in 1932, issued recently by Mr. S. J. Hungerford, the head of the system, not only sounds an encouraging note by itself, but it indicates unmistakably that when the upturn of business begins, the road "will quickly show, in increased net earnings and income, its resiliency and its power of recovery."

There is no need for the Canadian National Railways to plead for any special consideration of its economic condition. It has suffered like all other railways throughout the world. Its earnings have dropped because of the decreased demand for services. But what should be noted in Mr. Hungerford's statement is the fact that the Dominion government will not be called upon to find as much money in connection with the operations of 1932 as it was required to put up in 1931. While a certain curtailment of services has effected substantial economies, care has been taken to prevent the imposition of undue handicaps on communities which rely upon the system's accommodation. Indeed, Mr. Hungerford modestly claims that the safety and efficiency of the Canadian National has not been impaired by these economies in the slightest degree, but rather has it maintained its standard a little better even than the Class I railways of the United States.

An important point which Mr. Hungerford draws to the attention of the public is that in 1932 capital expenditures were almost negligible, amounting only to $2,100,000, compared with $34,000,000 in 1931, and $66,000,000 in 1930. In conjunction with the reduction in capital outlay, moreover, must be considered a reduction of $43,000,000 in operating expenses in 1932, as compared with a reduction of $38,000,000 in gross earnings, which gives an increase of nearly $6,000,000 in the net revenue from operation. The improvement here is obvious.

Taking a longer period under consideration, there is shown a total reduction of $150,000,000 or forty-eight per cent in gross earnings since the big year of 1928. To offset this during the same period economies in operating expenses amounting in all to $100,000,000 have been effected. The number of employees has declined since 1929 from 111,383 to 77,000, or thirty-one per cent, which has meant a payroll reduction from $177,000 to $108,000. Supervision costs have been cut thirty-five per cent by reorganization, salary reductions and other means. Fewer and smaller trains have also saved considerable money.

There is nothing in Mr. Hungerford's careful survey of the C.N.R.'s business for 1932 to suggest that it has lost any more ground than other railways on the North American continent. Had it not been for the bursting of the economic bubble in the fall of 1929, with its train of business wreckage, extension of economic nationalism in its most vicious form, the critics of the national system would have been not heard.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE HORSE COMES BACK

The Edmonton Journal

Elk City, Kansas, reports that a local store has acceded to persistent requests and installed eight hitching posts and a water trough near the building. The old grey mare has obviously come into her own again with her low fuel consumption, economical upkeep and slow depreciation. Elk City drivers can be credited with horse sense in meeting hard times.

ROYAL SYMPATHY

The Albany Knickerbocker Press

The British people have a genuine affection for their royal house and this is reciprocated in a thousand ways by the actions of the King and his household. Significant in that respect is the visit of the Prince of Wales into the unemployment-stricken textile cities in the Lancashire region. The Prince's popularity is built on something much more substantial than his royal lineage and a likeable personality. He takes a sincere interest in the trials and tribulations of his 2,000,000 countrymen who are out of work, many of whom have had to subsist on a meagre dole for several years. Royalty may, when functioning in such practical fashion, hope to endure even in these crown-pious times.

Loose Ends

We consider things too deep for the public—or even for us—including the condition of the world—the causes of the depression—the gold standard—and the need of standing pat in the crisis.

NO SEX APPEAL

WE HELD A very serious and deep meeting of the Blossom movement last night. I'm afraid it was probably too serious and deep for you. (The young man who takes my copy in at the office and sees that it reaches the printers says: "I ought to write more about wild parties and put some sex appeal into my stuff.") I even fear it was too serious and deep for most of us also. But our movement must be recorded, of course, even if nobody reads the record. Historians will understand it.

WELL, AT COLONEL BLOSSOM's suggestion, we invited a noted economist out to enlighten us on the larger aspects of the world crisis so that we would know, when we took office, how to cure it. "Well, you see," said the economist, a charming fellow, "all we economists knew that the crisis was coming. We could foresee it back in 1910 and 1911. It was obvious at that time that with the increasing improvement to machinery we should soon have more goods than we could absorb. Not because we didn't need the goods, of course—heaven knows most people hadn't enough of the necessities of life—but we had no way of getting the goods to the people. They couldn't afford to buy the goods and nobody was prepared to help them. Well, the war helped a lot," said Mr. Pudgey, who had two fingers shot off at Vimy.

YES, SAID THE economist, "the war helped us absorb so many goods all of a sudden, we sent so much wealth up in smoke that we achieved a remarkable prosperity and unemployment ceased entirely. And everybody thought he was broke. You see, while we weren't willing before the war to conserve the products of our machines to the backward peoples here and abroad, who needed them, and who would have paid us in their products, well, we realized at the opportunity of using up our wealth and accumulating huge debts in order to blow up other peoples who would pay nothing for that privilege. In the end the people we blew up borrowed a lot of money from us and aren't even going to pay us back."

WISE POLICIES

SO AFTER THE war," said the economist, "we started to repair the damage and build up our depleted stocks of goods. But we had improved our machinery so much during the war that we soon had more than replenished our stocks and the living standards of all civilized peoples were higher than ever. Presently we had more goods than we could sell, so we diverted our machinery to making radios and automobiles. Pretty soon everybody had a radio and an automobile though millions on this continent had no bath-tubs or plumbing. There was an over-production of radios, automobiles and fur coats, but never an over-production of bath-tubs or comfortable houses. So, very logically, we went on making radios, automobiles and fur coats and forcing them on people by installment buying and unlimited credit. We economists knew exactly what was coming but everybody was so happy, everybody was buying a new car and a new radio and we didn't see to say anything. Besides, we always thought, possibly we might be wrong. Things looked so good. Besides people abused us if we tried to tell the truth."

OBVIOUS THINGS

YOU SEE," said the economist, "certain obvious things had happened which were so obvious that no one took any notice of them. England, before the war, was the great creditor nation and lived largely on the returns from its investments abroad. These returns had to be made in goods, imports of raw materials. The United States, however, was a great debtor nation and had to export largely to pay interest on its debts abroad. But after the war the position was reversed. The United States was the great creditor nation—and to get any return for the money owed it, had to take goods from abroad in increasing quantities. So, very logically, it proceeded to put up its tariffs and take no goods. Then it found, of course, that it couldn't get its money from abroad back again or interest on it either. So it started to loan more money abroad, billions of it, and the people who borrowed it used it in large part to buy American goods. So the Americans, sending their money abroad and getting it back again, thought they had found the secret of prosperity. But when they couldn't loan any more, suddenly they realized that they had merely been passing money from one pocket into another. The foreign nations couldn't buy any more American goods. Eventually they couldn't pay interest on their debts. So to-day the Americans must either take goods from abroad or lose all their investment. They haven't decided yet what they are going to do. Meanwhile the United States, having closed its markets by tariffs, all the other nations did the same thing and pretty soon there was almost no trade at all."

"Sounds silly to me," said Colonel Blossom, "the great financiers wouldn't have done anything so foolish."

GREAT FINANCIERS

APPARENTLY," SAID THE economist, "it never occurred to the big financiers that a vast market awaited American industry at home where the average income had never kept up to the mounting cost of living and was lower in relation to prices during the boom than before. But there, seemed no way, either there or in any other country to get the goods to the people who needed them. It would have embarrassed high finance and the owners of wealth. So they hung on to avoid losing anything and finally lost nearly everything. As the obvious cause was to consume goods, finance solved the problem by reducing wages so that the power to consume goods was reduced lower than ever; and when goods were not purchased, wages were cut again. They had to be, if interest was to be paid on bonds and dividends and stock. Besides, everybody thought, having been told so by the biggest financiers, by the government of Canada and the President of the United States, that prosperity was just you-know-where.

IN DIGNITY

ANYWAY, IT WAS agreed on all sides that industry must work out the problem and that the government must keep out of it. Industry worked out the problem by firing its employees and then the government had to take them over and keep them on a dole. In this way government was kept out of business, quite successfully. In the end government kept out of business so successfully that in the United States it is supporting about 25,000,000 people this winter and in Canada close to 1,000,000. Then somebody got the highly original idea that with machinery to mind the goods for everybody we could all soon be prosperous if we managed things. They called this idea Technocracy, which was a fancy name for something we had known all along. But then people objected that if we created an economy based on the machine, men would be enslaved by the machine and would lose their souls. So at the moment we think it better to keep them in dignity on a dole of about $12 a month so they won't lose their souls.

BESIDES, YOU couldn't do anything about controlling the machine and getting goods to the people without disturbing the status quo. It would make such a lot of trouble for some people. It would injure the gold standard, because it would involve inability to unload the present crushing burden of debt.

"What is the gold standard anyhow?" asked Mrs. Clumby.

TOO DANGEROUS

WELL," SAID THE economist, "the gold standard means that the country has a certain amount of a kind of yellow metal in its vaults. That makes a country rich, even if it is broke and a quarter of its citizens are on the dole. But if it has no gold, it is poor even if it has plenty of goods for everyone. The trouble is that some countries are unfair enough not to appreciate that and have gone off the gold standard; and as their money is less valuable than ours they can't keep their mills and logging camps going and employing men at this time. They have many men employed other than Hindus, and I understand the wage paid is in line with other similar operations."

LIGHT NEEDED

TO THE Editor—Referring to the news item in your issue of last evening to the effect that a Hindu suffered certain injuries as a result of being struck by a car and that he was removed to the Jubilee Hospital, the report reads "it was raining heavily at the time of the accident and the Hindu was walking on the road." In view of the fact that there is no sidewalk on the said road and for long stretches to walk too close to the side on a dark night would be to run the risk of a bad fall, it is reasonable to ask where else could he have walked than on the road? The fact that this particular road has no light whatever was no doubt the main cause of the accident and the responsibility for this

There does not seem to be much stir in the municipality of South Saanich in view of the near approach of the annual municipal elections. Thomas Brydon, who has so well filled the position of reeve since the organization of the municipality has decided to eschew public business for a time, giving all his attention to his own affairs.

The overcrowding of the city schools was one of the matters dealt with by the school trustees at the last meeting of the board. It was brought to the attention of the trustees by a report from Trustee Riddell, chairman of the building and grounds committee and was stated by him to be a grave question.

HINDU MILES.

TO THE Editor—I understand a part of the article on this subject in The Times of December 31 was based on information received from me. I want to say that I think Major Singh and his associates deserve the admiration and appreciation of all the citizens of British Columbia for their heroic effort to keep their mills and logging camps going and employing men at this time. They have many men employed other than Hindus, and I understand the wage paid is in line with other similar operations.

MORE BLACK MAGIC

TO THE Editor—I am incredibly infuriated that for three years in succession on the top of Mount Talmic incantations have been muttered over the he-goat. "Depression." The Premier and other ministers pronounced the magic formula "Prosperity is around the corner," red wine was poured over it and a "maiden pure of heart," Miss Daisy Colonial, played her part in the ceremony to make the he-goat turn into a youth of unsurpassed beauty. "Recovery." Nothing happened. The goat remained a goat.

REV. DR. SWITZER'S ADDRESS

TO THE Editor—In reference to the report in to-day's issue of the prayer meeting at St. Andrew's on the fourth inst. Surely the report must have been written before the meeting took place, for we certainly didn't attend. The speaker's address. The heading blames "hated" for the ills of the age. Yet Rev. Dr. Switzer's remarks suggested strong dislike of Britain, whom he attacked in regard to slave trade, child labor, treaties and so on. The speaker reiterated the injunction to forgive unto seventy times seven, and in the same breath accused Britain of trying to ruin Germany and retard the recovery of the world in language which certainly betrayed an entire absence of love and forgiveness. Has Dr. Switzer forgotten the Franco-Prussian War, the zeppelin raids, the submarine menace, the sinking of hospital ships and other cruelties perpetrated by Germany during the war? Those of us who, by the Grace of God, are working, looking and longing for the peace of the world which will be ushered in by the Prince of Peace, feel that a prayer meeting should be a place where the spirit of love in Christ Jesus should prevail above all things, influencing every thought and mind, heart and soul of all present, and where the spirit of aggression and unkind thoughts dare not and cannot enter. The latter has no place with the former.

PROMISE TO PAY?

TO THE Editor—A casual glance at the principal medium of exchange in Victoria, or any other Canadian community for that matter, is simply "I promise to pay" bills of paper. The housewife gives her "promise to pay" piece of paper for the radio, piano, electric washer and numerous other furniture items. The husband gives his "promise to pay" piece of paper for the property and automobile. The worker receives his pay on "promise to pay" pieces of paper. The bank pays the worker with "promise to pay" pieces of paper. The business man gives the bank a "promise to pay" piece of paper to enable him to circulate more "promise to pay" pieces of paper.

The city council involves the citizens with a load of "I promise to pay" pieces of paper. The provincial government imposes a super-load of "I promise to pay" pieces of paper on the city by now some-what dizzy citizen. The federal government imposes a super-super-load of "I promise to pay" pieces of paper on the city by now some-what dizzy citizen. The federal government in its fraternal benevolence gives a few more "promise to pay" pieces of paper to help an obliging railway system; and just to show they have nothing up their sleeve they give us to look closely at the pretty printed pieces of paper and mark where it says "Will pay the bearer on demand." This, the financial juggler will tell you, is the funniest part of the joke. And with a jovial countenance and professional mien he whispers, "Isn't it wonderful." "All done on paper." In my innocence I exclaim, "How could he?" He whispers again, very confidentially this time, "Natural resources."

Suddenly seeing the point I ask: "Have we come to the end of our natural resources?" He replied, rather briskly: "No! We

$54,600,000 Is Total of Philanthropic Grants in 1931, One-quarter Under 1930

Rockefeller Group Led With 54.3 Per Cent Total; Carnegie Gave $8,991,000

New York, Jan. 9.—A general survey of the flow of funds from philanthropic foundations into various fields in this country was made public yesterday, showing that 102 foundations gave away $54,600,000 during the year 1931.

The first survey of this kind was undertaken last year by the Twentieth Century Fund, for its own guidance in distributing the funds placed at its disposal by Edward A. Filene where they might do the most good. This year the survey is made a public document again because of the interest in it.

Ninety-one foundations reported a year ago, compared with 102 this year; but according to the survey, "foundations—grants—appear to have declined 23.7 per cent in 1931, compared with 1930; this decline is about in proportion to estimates of the reduction in the national income as a whole during the same period, which is put at 20 per cent."

DISTRIBUTION IS ANALYZED

In analyzing the flow of funds, the Twentieth Century Fund finds: "The field of economics still receives surprisingly little attention from American foundations. In this, the third year of the depression, it seems extraordinary that so inadequate a proportion of foundation support is given to this field. Only eighteen out of the 102 foundations which gave data showed an interest in economics, and only $225,000 of grants out of the total of $54,600,000 were given to it—a proportion of only 0.4 per cent."

"The field of medicine and public health received the largest share of donations, a total of $17,144,000, or 31.4 per cent of the grand total of all fields. Other fields of interest, which showed an interest in economics, and only $225,000 of grants out of the total of $54,600,000 were given to it—a proportion of only 0.4 per cent."

"Only eight foundations paid attention to government, with total grants amounting to $609,000, or 1.1 per cent of the total. Other fields of interest which show a surprisingly small percentage of the whole are child welfare, with 2.3 per cent of the total, most surprising of all, social welfare, which in a year when relief measures are headlined in the newspapers every day, reached only 0.4 per cent of the total for all fields put together."

But in another section of the survey it was pointed out that the 1931 total given for social welfare, however inadequate, had nevertheless increased 40 per cent over the previous year, while grants in other fields had generally declined.

ROCKEFELLER LARGEST DONORS

At the head of the list of givers, the Rockefeller group of philanthropic organizations made grants aggregating $29,634,000, or 54.3 per cent of the total, given away in this country. The Rockefeller total was composed of $15,876,000 given by the General Education Board; $12,850,000 by the Rockefeller Foundation and $908,000 by the Spelman Fund.

The Carnegie group of organizations came second with grants of $8,991,000, or 16.5 per cent of the total, composed of $5,421,000 given by the corporation, $1,732,000 by the foundation for the advancement of teaching; $1,465,000 by the institution in Washington; $231,000 by the hero fund and $132,000 by the endowment for international peace.

The general board, although it remained the largest spender in 1931, cut its grants to $15,876,000 from $29,634,000 the previous year. Even with this reduction, it received only $4,153,000 in income from investments and had to provide the remaining $11,723,000 out of its principal funds.

Although the Rockefeller group was the largest giver in 1931, as it was in 1930, the Carnegie group had the largest capital resources. The capital of the Rockefeller group, as shown in the report, is $128,000,000, while the Carnegie group has $246,000,000.

SOME OF THE OTHER LARGE DONORS

Besides the Rockefeller and Carnegie disbursements, which together accounted for 70.8 per cent of the annual national philanthropy, other large foundations include:

Duke Endowment, $3,754,000.
Julius Rosenwald Fund, $2,387,000.
Wyoming Foundation, $1,130,000.
Children's Fund of Michigan, $871,000.

Milbank Memorial Fund, $823,000.
Murry and Leonie Guggenheim Foundation, $401,000.

Russell Sage Foundation, $387,000.
"The variety of activities to which the money has been donated," according to the survey, "ranges all the way from care dwellers' art and the causes of pessimism in the Middle Ages to the preserving of game birds, maintenance of undertaking parlors and research into ventilation, comfort stations and interstellar complications of modern times."

The types of activity for which the grants were made have been classified as educational (imparting old truths), research (developing new truths) and social action (such as the operation of a playground or a settlement house).

The shifts in the fields of activity were complex. In general the survey found foundation "less ready by 30 per cent to finance educational agencies in 1931 than in 1930, while research grants declined 13.8 per cent, and agencies of social action received 3.5 per cent less than the previous year." Clark, director of the Twentieth Century Fund, for the guidance of a board of trustees comprising Newton D. Baker, Bruce Bliven, Henry Bruce, Henry S. Denison, John H. Fahy, Edward A. Filene, Max Lowenthal, James G. McDonald, Roscoe Pound and Owen D. Young.

"Do we recognize this fact in the first place?" he asked. "Has God ever failed us in days gone by? Will he fail us in this, our hour of need? Can we not come claiming his promise never to leave us, never to forsake us."

"I wonder if it is possible for God to raise us out of this depression and bring happiness to all—our human family. I firmly believe it is possible. Our present plight and the way out of our difficulties rests with our faith and trust in Him."

Senator Hardy's Son Weds
Sixteen-year-old Girl in

Spent Honeymoon as Guests of Detroit Police After Long Chase

Associated Press
Detroit, Jan. 9.—Tulford Hardy of Toronto, twenty-one-year-old son of Senator A. C. Hardy of Brockville, Ont., and Miss Betty Hill, sixteen, of Toronto, traversed three states to get married this week-end only to end their honeymoon as guests of the Detroit police.

The young couple set out from Toronto in Hardy's automobile Friday for Detroit to get married. Their parents sought to have them stopped at the border, but they had already crossed into Detroit, where they found Michigan law prescribed a five-day waiting period for those wishing to marry. The couple then went to Toledo, O., where the same situation confronted them. Finally they were married at Crown Point, Ind., at 4 a.m. Saturday and returned to Detroit.

Detroit police recognized the license number on Hardy's automobile and arrested him. The couple were turned over to Canadian authorities, who were seeking directions from the parents of the newlyweds.

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 9.—Tulford Hardy, twenty-one-year-old son of Senator A. C. Hardy of Brockville and Betty Hill, daughter of Frank Hill, Toronto, returned with relatives to Toronto Saturday night after being sent here by Detroit authorities.

The young pair said they were married at Crown Point, Ind., after unsuccessful efforts at Detroit and Toledo.

Women Architects
Fighting Slums

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times
London—A committee of women architects, town-planning experts and examining London. Manchester and Leeds with a view to fighting the slum problem of those cities.

Now they have set up an exhibit at the Building Trades Exhibition called "New Homes for Old." Not only did they show crude mistakes made in building slums, but they also demonstrated what could be done with a giant broom and some rigorous sweeping over the slum quarters.

Their plan is to turn dirty backyards into charming gardens, provide playgrounds and laundries, kill the rats, and bring the families up out of the basements.

"In London alone 100,000 people still live in basements owing to the lack of other accommodation," declared Miss Elizabeth Allington, the daughter of the headmaster of Eton, who is on the committee.

Mrs. Anderson belonged to the Eastern Star, the Pioneer of the State of Washington and was active in the Red Cross. She is survived by two daughters, Cora B. Anderson and Louise O. Anderson of Seattle, and a son, Russell N. Anderson of Tacoma.

Man Cannot Live
By Bread Alone

—true enough. But in economical times like these he needs to depend upon more than ever to keep him in health and strength. He leans harder on the staff of life.

And those kids—why, their appetites act as though they had never heard of "any such anisms" as Depression. Nor can one tamper with such a main, base food as bread when it comes to children.

To avoid rickets, and all that ghastly list of child afflictions which follow poor nourishment, THEIR BREAD MUST BE FULL FOOD VALUE. You can get that in:

How to Help Your Husband

Dorothy Dix

Considers Love More Valuable Than Thrift

When a Woman Thinks of Helping Her Husband, She Considers Only Thrift—Yet Good Food and Good Cheer, Love and Faith in His Power to Accomplish Are What Enable a Man to Succeed

EVERY bride dreams of being an inspiration in her husband's life. Every worthwhile woman wants to be a real helpmate to the man to whom she married. Strange to say, however, when a woman thinks of helping her husband she thinks of it only in terms of thrift, saving his money. Penny pinching, wearing last season's hats, Mutton legs. Hashing up the cold potatoes, counting the price of a movie and then staying at home. Cutting off all the fat and skinning the household budget down to the bone.

Now, without doubt, an economical wife is one of heaven's best gifts to a poor young man and a first-aid to getting rich that is not to be despised, for it is true that a woman can throw more out of the back door with a teaspoon than her husband can put in the front door with a spoon. But for all of that, the wives who help their husbands most are not the dime nuffers.

Indeed very often the women who clip their husbands most are not saviors but spenders. Many a man who could have taken things easily and never been and never than moderately well off if he had been married to a woman who could make one dollar do the work of two has had to hustle so to pay the bills of an extravagant wife that he has become a millionaire.

How, then, can a woman help her husband? First, by making him a comfortable, home and feeding him properly. It is curious how little stress women put on this as a factor in their husbands' success in the world. They seem to think it is just a matter between them and their bridge games whether they are home in time to have the house lighted up and cheerful and a good dinner prepared for their husbands or whether he comes home to a dark house and to eat a meal that has been brought home in paper bags from the delicatessen store, and if their husbands complain they think they are fussy and unreasonable.

Yet when their husbands break down with nervous prostration at forty-five is nearly always because the poor things never had a comfortable place to rest after their hard day's labor so that they could go back refreshed and restored to their work. Nor do they realize that a man's irritability that makes him disagreeable to get along with and that shuts the door of opportunity in his face or the bad judgment that makes him take the wrong share in a trade-in, arise, nine times out of ten, the result of dyspepsia brought on by bad cooking and an improper diet.

Many a man insults his best customer or quarrels with his partner or throws up a good job or goes down on the market or turns down a business proposition that would have made him a fortune simply because he has had a breakfast of mean coffee and soggy bread and fried eggs that have filled him so full of bile that he looks at everything through green spectacles and feels that the whole world is going to the dogs.

A wife can help her husband by keeping his fur smoothed down the right way and making him happy. Women do not realize it, but the most expensive luxury in which a wife can indulge herself is a spat with her husband. So far as the cost in actual dollars and cents is concerned it would be cheaper for her to go out and buy imported hat or chiffon lingerie than it is to tell her John just exactly what she thinks of him and remind him of all his faults and shortcomings.

For nothing shows a man down like hauling him out. Nothing takes his mind off his work like a family row. The man who has to make an effort to put out of his thoughts the memory of the mean things his wife said to him and the mean things he said to her at a breakfast-table fight, before he can concentrate on his daily task has his ability diminished at least 50 per cent.

Nor is this mere theory. Not long ago one of the big railroads had a survey made of the home life of their thousands of employees and it ascertained that not only was the efficiency of the men almost in exact ratio to the way they got along with their wives, but that most of the wrecks occurred after the men had had some domestic squabble. And only the other day at a convention of traffic policemen it was stated that at the bottom of most automobile accidents was some disagreement between a husband and a wife.

So the woman who wants to speed her husband up does so by keeping him happy, keeping his mind clear of worries so that he can give all the power that he has to his work. For happiness is the big medicine that quickens our faculties and spurs on our ambition, that gives us fresh strength and courage and makes us feel that we can achieve things. When we are miserable and discouraged we are beaten.

A woman can help her husband by being his press agent. Unconsciously we take our estimate of a man from his wife and if she admires him and respects his opinion and thinks he is about the best ever, why, we are mighty apt to give him the glad hand ourselves.

But if she is always bemoaning her fate that she cannot have this or that because John does not get along very well in business, or if she weeps on our breast and confides to us that he drank a little too much, or stayed out until all hours of the morning the night of some convention, or that she is jealous of his pretty flapper stenographer, why, we turn our thumbs down on the poor chap, though half the time it is not true, and his wife is just exaggerating his weaknesses because she has a morbid craving for sympathy.

And finally and most of all a wife can help her husband by just believing in him and pepping him up when his own courage fails. There comes times of discouragement to every man; times when business is bad; times when investments turn out disastrously; times when the results of years of work are swept away in an instant; and then whether he rises down to defeat or gets himself up and fights on to victory depends almost altogether on his wife.

If she loses faith in him, and especially if she reproaches him with his failure, he is done for, but if she still believes in him and encourages him and backs him up, nothing can keep him down. He is bound to justify her faith in him.

"Love," said Mr. Kipling in one of his poems, "hath made this thing a man." And it is the women who love their husbands and believe in them who make men successes.

RALLY GIVES EDMONTON WIN

Veteran Duke Keats Plays Major Role in Victory With Goal and Two Assists

Edmonton, Jan. 9. — Robust, nerve-jolting checks took their toll here Saturday night. The Edmonton Eskimos, fighting desperately for points in the Western Canada Professional Hockey League, opened up a fierce attack in the third period that resulted in five goals being scored by the Eskimos and the defeat of the Regina club 7 to 3. For two periods Regina held the lead. For two periods they had easily the better of the play. Not a soul in the hockey-mad crowd of 3,000 would have given the Eskimos more than a clothe-line's chance with Gandhi. But things happened in an astounding manner in the last period. Duke Keats, hero of innumerable battles here, scored a goal. He came right back and assisted in two more and while the Eskis had opened the period behind 3 to 2, half-time through the last twenty-minute session they had shot to the front and were leading 5 to 3. Two quick goals finished the scoring.

Lineups:
Edmonton — Robertson; Redpath, Kenny, Keats, Gagne and Scott. Subs: Huffman, Gibson, Johnson and Smith.
Regina — Rheame; Pusie, Townsend, Huff, Sheppard, McAdam and Palm. Subs: Kirk, Patterson, Pitkin and Laroche.

South Wellington Win Over Nanaimo

Nanaimo, Jan. 9.—South Wellington defeated Nanaimo Tar Flats 2 to 0 yesterday in a Mid-Island Football League game before a large crowd. The game was fast in the first half notwithstanding the heavy crowd. South Wellington went into the lead after thirty minutes of play when Watson ran through and scored with a hard drive. The Tar Flats tried hard to equalize but the shooting of their forwards was weak. Half-time arrived with Wellington leading 1 to 0. On resuming end to end play ensued for some time, the game being slowed down by the heavy going. Gough added a second goal for Wellington after twenty minutes.

As these two American preparatory experts for the world monetary and economic conference, J. H. Williams (left) and E. E. It formerly had been reported that Williams and Day might not attend the Geneva conference because of Governor Roosevelt's insistence that details of the parley be left to his administration.

NEW AUSPICES FOR ORCHESTRA

Victoria Junior Symphony to Resume Operation Under Aegis of School Board

Notwithstanding some apparent confusion in the matter of a meeting to talk over the future of the Junior Symphony Orchestra, several keen supporters gathered on Saturday evening and at considerable length supported arrangements whereby the orchestra would resume operation at an early date. In future the Junior Symphony will hold its rehearsals under the auspices of the Victoria School Board, in co-operation with the municipal inspector, George H. Deane, and W. H. Binns, director of night schools.

All members of the orchestra are expected to contribute a fee of 25 cents at each rehearsal, and circulars will be sent out to members, or to any young student upon application. The next weekly practice is to be held on Saturday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock, and at the same place, the Pemberton Gymnasium, with Harold Taylor still acting as conductor.

These arrangements will in no way conflict with the Victoria High School orchestra, from which Mr. Taylor recently resigned.

PATRONS AND COMMITTEE

The following were chosen to act as a committee of records, conduct and general welfare of the organization: Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Cayley, John Kyle, George J. Dyke, and Messrs. Young and Jordan.

The patrons, who had until now constituted a governing committee, are Mrs. J. Hebban Gillespie, Mrs. J. O. Cameron, James H. Beatty, M.P.P., Hon. George A. Bucklin, Dr. Gustavus Fricke, and Ira Dilworth.

The orchestra has a membership of fifty players, and in this rejuvenation it is hoped the symphony will gather increased membership.

NEW LEADERS TAKE OFFICE

Kinsmen Install 1933 Officers at Dinner Ceremony

The value of humanitarian community work, stimulated by the conditions of the day, among service clubs was stressed by Roy W. Browne, Vancouver, district governor of the Kinsmen, at the local club's installation meeting in the Empress Hotel on Saturday evening.

"The depression has done much good. It has made us more human, encouraged greater welfare work in our midst and made us realize the needs of others under trying conditions," Mr. Browne said. He enumerated some of the activities of the Kinsmen to show how that group had been meeting its obligations along community lines.

As installing officer Mr. Browne placed Archie W. Smith, newly elected president of the local branch, in office at the head of the Victoria club and installed the other members of the executive as follows: Dr. B. Nickells, vice-president; Jack Gibson, secretary; Hugh Francis, assistant secretary; Edwin Sanders, treasurer; and P. J. Mulcahy, Robert Mace and Fred Burns, directors.

Reports of the club's work during 1932 was submitted by Dr. Arthur Poyntz, retiring president; W. Dillabough, retiring secretary; Ernest Dyson, assistant secretary, and P. J. Mulcahy, treasurer.

Membership in the local club had reached the highest figures in the history of the organization here during 1932. Dr. Poyntz stated in his report as retiring president. He thanked the members and his executive for their co-operation during the year and referred to the vitality that existed in the club.

Walter Miles paid tribute to the work done by Dr. Poyntz in a vote of thanks to the retiring head.

Activities of the year were sketched in the report of the secretary, W. Dillabough, which indicated many functions had been held during 1932.

Attendance averages for the year had been eighty-one per cent, Ernest Dyson reported. Finances of the organization were in good condition, P. J. Mulcahy stated.

MEMBERSHIP HIGHER

Following the dinner the clubmen were entertained with a splendid programme of dance and song numbers by the talented pupils of the Russian Ballet School. Each performer showed exceptional skill in the execution of her presentation and rounds of applause were accorded the entertainers.

Misses Wynne Shaw, Kathleen Shaw, Doreen Wilson, Elaine Sheppard, Bernice Penner, and Myra Edwards were particularly well received. Mrs. C. Addison was at the piano.

Beautiful coronas of red carnations were presented to the girls by Jack Gibson, on behalf of the club, as a token of appreciation for their programme.

SALT SPRING ISLAND

Ganges, Jan. 9.—The progressive 500 drive and dance, organized by the newly-formed Puffin Football Club was held in the Institute Hall at Puffin Friday evening and proved most successful. A report, issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on the basis that 1929 equals 100, shows increased sales in the month of November for three groups and decreased sales for eight groups, as compared with the previous month.

The index numbers are based on returns from eighty-three chains, comprising approximately 2,700 stores, and twenty-five departmental stores.

THEFTS ARE INVESTIGATED

Woman Victim of Purse-snatchers; Cars Rifled in City

More cases of car rifling and petty theft were reported to the police over the week-end, with the purse-snatching from Mrs. A. E. Carmichael as the most serious.

Mrs. Carmichael was entering the gate of her home, corner David Street and Rock Bay Avenue, about 10:30 o'clock Saturday night when two young men approached her. As one snatched her purse she was pushed and fell in the roadway. The purse was thrown on the sidewalk by her assailants, who fled.

At 11:50 o'clock yesterday evening J. Davidson, 1802 Belmont Avenue, telephoned headquarters saying he was holding two youths who he had caught rifling his car, but they had gone when police arrived on the scene.

A traveling bag was stolen from a car owned by D. Burley of Vancouver, standing outside 1350 Rockland Avenue yesterday evening.

The garage of W. Reide, Mount Edwards Apartments, was entered and articles from the car strewn about the place.

Richard Jackson, 3168 Jackson Street, reported a tire stolen from his car.

Cobble Hill High School Trustees

Special to The Times Cobble Hill Jan. 9.—When the question of collection of the non-ratepayers tax of 5 per cent levied by the annual meeting of July, 1932, was brought before the Cobble Hill High School trustees, January 6, the board decided it would deal with objections only when put in writing. The secretary presented a financial report of the last four-month term. The report showed a good balance on hand, the returns on tuition showing that of the total collectable to June 30, 1933, over one-third had been paid on December 31, 1932.

Unlike most school districts, instead of the grant on teacher salaries being reduced next year, this district, on account of its small assessment, will benefit by about 1½ mills on the new arrangement of the Education Department on the payment of grants to school boards for 1933-34.

DISCOVERY OF GOLD IN LABRADOR AREA DRAWS PROSPECTORS

Interest Grows in Montreal As Claims Are Staked

Canadian Press St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 9.—Discovery of gold in Labrador has created tremendous interest in Montreal, according to Hon. W. J. Walsh, Minister of Agriculture and Mines, who has returned here from Canada.

The minister refused to comment on conferences he held with representatives of Canada and United States interests at Truro and Montreal, but it is understood the subjects discussed included Labrador minerals and the St. George's coal fields.

Labrador was officially opened to prospectors this winter by action of the Newfoundland Government following discovery of gold by Captain E. S. Bondurant of Quincy, Illinois, explorer and prospector.

Capt. Bondurant's claim is situated at latitude 53.03 north, and longitude 67 west. He has taken a square block through which the river Aux Fraiches runs. On the west side is Lake Wabash-Katago.

Licenses to search over an area of 1,140 square miles have been taken by the Lands Department since the captain's claim was filed.

Seven oblong claims have been taken immediately to the north of his. They extend from the river Achumput to the east to the height of land on the west with the northern boundary at 53.30 degrees. The grantees are R. T. McDonald, Thomas Jackson, Frank M. Wells, the Great Gulf Lake Copper Company, Thomas Smyth and Thomas Molloy.

J. Cheeseman has a claim adjoining Bondurant's on the west, and extending to the height of land. On the south of Bondurant's claim are areas granted to F. Chalmers, C. C. Duley, B. McGrath and D. Baird. These are bounded by the height of land on the south and west.

On the south of the Wabash-Katago are claims held by J. Rendell, J. T. Messey and C. W. Tanner.

The 1,140 square miles is embraced in longitude 66.30 west to the height of land and from 53 north to 53.30 north.

SEARCH PARTY IS ORGANIZED

Efforts Made to Locate Silas Martin, Saanich, Who Disappeared From Home

Fourteen unemployed men were organized as a search party by Chief Allan Rankin of the Saanich police this morning to look for Silas Martin, 2854 Colquhoun Road, who has been missing since Saturday.

The searchers scoured the bushes and vacant property near the Martin home this morning but without result and continued their efforts further afield.

Mr. Martin disappeared from home after leaving a note to his wife which left her in a state of anxiety and caused her to communicate with the police. Prior to leaving he telephoned to her in the city and asked if she would be home on an early bus. After making preparations for the evening meal he left the house and has not been seen since.

He recently returned home after spending several weeks at Resthaven Hospital, Sidney.

Police officers undertook the search for Mr. Martin on Saturday but were reinforced this morning by the party of unemployed.

The young girl was putting in a few words for her boy friend to her father, but dad wouldn't listening to them. "But, father," she persisted, "you must make some allowance for Henry's shortcomings."

"I'm not kicking about his shortcomings," said the parent. "What I don't like is his long stayings."

"Have you any idea how your wife caught such a terrible cold?" "I've a pretty good idea. I think it was her cook."

"Too thin, I suppose?" "No, I don't think so, doctor. It was last winter's coat and she wouldn't wear it."

LONDONERS GET NEW BEAUTY AID

Weather-proof Face Powder
Defies Rain and Shiny Nose

One Cream For Evening Wear
Has Silver Spots Which Glisten

Reuter's Special To The Victoria Times
London—Weatherproof face power which will not be blown off by the wind or washed away by the rain to leave a shiny nose—is now being shown in London. It gives the skin a porcelain appearance and is made in three colors—natural, Rachel and peaches-and-cream.

Make-up is becoming much more theatrical. To go with the new colors of violet, amethyst, and deep hyacinth blue, a rouge with an undertone of blue is being used.

Cosmetics for evening wear with the popular gowns include a mauve cream for the eyelids. One such cream is faintly spotted with silver, which shines like raindrops in the light.

Modern furniture is also being influenced by the popularity of brilliant hues. Suits of weathered oak and walnut are dyed such deep shades as navy blue. But nothing to me is more at- tractive than the unstained natural oak which is the favorite for dining-room and bedroom furniture.

LONDON SEETHES WITH GOSSIP

The Fact That Smart Women Have Taken to Wearing Masks Is Mixed Up With It

Clever Reproductions of Other Persons' Features Conceals Identities

Reuter's Special To The Victoria Times
London—London has been seething with gossip lately. You know the sort. "But, my dear, I saw her at the Ritz and she was with a tall, light-haired man... somebody I've never seen before." Sometimes they are speaking of Greta Garbo, who has been supposed to be in Sweden.

The trouble is that London has a new whim for wearing masks. Life-like masks, molded to the face, and presenting some one else's features. At several of the fashionable parties lately women have gone wearing portrait masks of their hostesses. Another plain woman went to a ball wearing an exotic, pale mask—and she complained that every one wanted to kiss her, or at any rate, her deceptive mask.

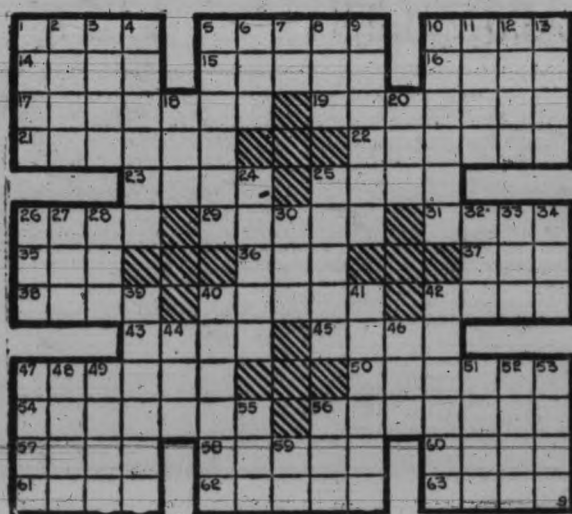

One of the most successful creators of these new masks is Miss Gladys Marlowe, a well known singer, who in private life is Mrs. A. E. Scrutton, a daughter-in-law of Lord Justice Scrutton.

Some of her friends come to her for portrait masks of their children, people who do not want to spend the money on an oil painting, and yet want to have something to show John when he grows up... and say, "See what a sweet little thing you were then."

Another thing Miss Marlowe does with masks is to prepare them for wall decoration. It might be for Mrs. Brown-Brown's home, so she makes a mask of Mrs. Brown-Brown and paints it in the colors that harmonize with the color-scheme of the room. Wine-colored hair and gold lips. One room she decorated was done in strong reds and had steel furniture. So she made a mask of a bronze-colored negro head to tone in with the other severe shades.

Wearing masks to fancy-dress parties has become quite a vogue in London. She says that any people become positively boisterous when they put on masks. Something about masks re- leases pent-up English reserve.

TO GIVE TWO REVUES HERE

Dumbells Will Play in Victoria
All Next Week With Two New Productions

Capt. M. W. Plunkett and his ever-popular Dumbells Company will reach the coast to-day and are billed to open a week's engagement at the Vancouver Theatre this evening, after which they will come to Victoria for an entire week at the Royal Victoria Theatre, during which time they will offer two entirely different musical revues.

Their first presentation is called "Here We Are Again," and this will be given on the first three nights and at the Wednesday matinee of the week commencing January 16. The second offering is titled "Keep Smiling," and it will be staged here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the same week.

By a policy of lower prices, longer stays in each city and bigger and better revues than ever before, Captain Plunkett has managed to turn an otherwise doubtful season into one of the most successful the Dumbells have ever enjoyed.

The captain has also been particularly fortunate in his selection of a cast, and in the introduction of a chorus of lovely Canadian girls, but most fortunate of all is his discovery of Audre Carline, whose first season with the company has jumped her right into stardom.

The cast of old favorites is headed by Al. Pickett, Harry Binn, Pat Rafferty, Don Romaine, Scotty Morrison, Curly Nixon and Scott Plunkett, while the new find, in addition to Miss Carline, include Irene Fox, Marion Fox, Billie Brown, Merla Watson, Helen McArthur, Ina Benson, Gwendolyn Teece and Dorothy Murray.

Double Bill At Columbia

Anything can happen in Hollywood—and usually does. The truth of this saying is demonstrated in "Once in a Lifetime." Universal's hilariously funny satire on production methods in the motion picture studios of the film capital which is being shown at the Columbia Theatre to-day.

Lewis, a blundering vaudeville actor, incredibly "dumb," secures a position in a studio through a laughable chain of circumstances and dares to direct a tirade of abuse at the great Herman Glouguer, executive head of the company. The amazement of the producer gives way to admiration, and he promptly appoints the small-time actor superior of all Glouguer productions, characterizing him as a man who is simply "colossal."

Also on the same programme is "The Cabin in the Cotton."

Fairbanks At Empire Theatre

One of the principal actors in Douglas Fairbanks' new picture, "Mr. Robinson Crusoe," now the feature attraction at the Empire Theatre is Chief Tupa, of the district Mahina, Tahiti, who traces his ancestry back to the time when white men were unknown in the South Seas.

Chief Tupa, an expert fisherman and diver, plays the part of the cannibal chief in the Fairbanks film and demonstrates an histrionic ability that may well be envied by any of Hollywood's trained character actors.

"All of the South Seas natives are natural actors," said Doug. "You merely tell them what to do, and immediately they perform with the skill of veterans. Rhythm and pantomime seem to be among their birthrights."

The scene in which the cannibals, under the leadership of Chief Tupa, prepare to make a shore dinner of Doug is so realistic that it makes the patters jump from vertebra to vertebra like flashes of static.

RACING STORY AT CAPITOL

"Lady Panniford's Folly" Is Adaptation of Edgar Wallace Story

A break in the history of the world-famous Ascot race course was made when a second meeting was staged for the purpose of filming scenes in the screen version of "Lady Panniford's Folly," an adaptation of Edgar Wallace's racing thriller "The Calendar," which is being shown at the Capitol Theatre to-day.

A typical Ascot gathering thronged the paddock, the Royal Enclosure and Tattersall's Ring, including men impeccably clad in shining black and sporting grey toppers, women, shrouded in flowered filmy dresses, book makers, touts and tic-tacs.

Horses from the Aga Khan's stables and Edgar Wallace's training quarters were brought into use, while jockeys, stable-lads, "Royal" servants in gorgeous liveries of green and gold mingled with the crowd of "extras," which numbered over 500.

The sun shone brilliantly, giving pleasure to the "extras," and imparting "pep" to genial T. Hayes Hunter, who directed the picture.

The event attracted a large crowd on the heath-side of the course, which lent realism to this strange August meeting.

Where To Go To-night

On the Screen

OPEN LETTER TO OUR CUSTOMERS AND THE PUBLIC

Having in mind the fact that the City of Victoria would be benefited by having logs now in the harbor manufactured into lumber here, instead of being shipped away and sold to mills outside of Victoria, we have bought several hundred thousand feet of said logs and have made arrangements with the Moore & Whittington Lumber Company to cut them for us. The rough lumber will be transferred by scow to our plant, where the manufacturing will be completed by resawing, planing, kiln drying, etc., necessitating the employment of a crew of about forty men. This employment is furnished for Moore & Whittington's mill crew and those required in our own manufacturing plant. We believe that there will be a revival of building in Greater Victoria with the coming of spring weather, and we are now preparing to put our stock in shape to take care of the requirements of our customers and builders and contractors generally.

WANTS HUSBAND DECLARED DEAD

Mrs. F. G. Ellis Tells Court
She Has Not Seen Him For Seven Years

In Francis George Ellis, formerly of Penticton, and son of the man who is known as the "father of the Okanagan" alive.

This was the question before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald of the Supreme Court here today. W. H. Bullock-Webster, counsel for the wife, Agnes, now living in Victoria, presented information before the judge today to the effect that the husband had not been seen or heard of for seven years.

The wife asked the court to declare her husband dead as there is an inheritance of $10,000 which had been left to him, and which is due to pass on to her.

"If Ellis appeared again, the only thing he would find in respect to this was that his wife would have all the money," said Mr. Bullock-Webster.

"That would be a most commendable situation, I would say," said the judge.

Mr. Bullock-Webster replied he thought it would be "highly commendable."

The judge asked Mr. Bullock-Webster to file some additional affidavits before he issued the order, for leave to presume death.

The monthly meeting of the Mount Douglas High School Parent Teachers' Association will be postponed from tomorrow to Tuesday, January 17.

DEATH REMOVES
MRS. R. NALDER
Well-known Worker For
Pundita Ramabai Mission
Died Sunday

Mrs. Rachel Nalder, well known in church mission circles for her long and active work in behalf of the Pundita Ramabai Mission in India, died yesterday morning at her home, 100 George Road, aged eighty years.

Mrs. Nalder was born in England on July 12, 1851, and came to Canada in 1882 with her parents on a visit. Later she was married to John Nalder, in Halifax, Nova Scotia, where she lived for some years. Mrs. Nalder was much interested in mission work and after her husband's death became an active worker for the mission for Indian child-widows and outcasts started at Poona, Bombay, by the late Pundita Ramabai, whom she knew personally. Mrs. Nalder practically toured the world appealing for funds for the mission, twice visiting England, Scotland and Wales, then spending much time in the United States and, in 1914, came to the Antipodes, devoting two years in Australia and New Zealand to soliciting funds for the mission. After her return to this continent, Mrs. Nalder lived for some time in California, espousing the cause of the mission, and in 1916 visited the mission field in India. On her return she lived in Vancouver for a time until her health breaking down, she came to Victoria ten years ago, living here ever since. She spoke frequently before the local missionary bodies in the interests of the Indian mission.

She is survived by two sons, Miss Grace Clay, Victoria, and Mrs. W. Hutchinson, Ico, B.C., and cousins in Vancouver. Funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Baptist Church, Rev. G. A. Reynolds officiating. The arrangements are in the hands of McCall Bros.

CAKE SPOILED IN BORROWING

Inspector of Municipalities
Discusses Civic History and Problems With Gyros

Public Bodies Make No
Provision in Good Years For Lean Times Ahead

A mild warning against borrowing by municipalities to tide over the depression was conveyed by Robert Baird, Inspector of B.C. Municipalities, in an address to the Gyro Club at luncheon in the Empress Hotel today.

There was a tendency on the part of taxpayers, when asked to vote on a money bill, to favor it because it solved their immediate difficulties, but the money had to be paid some time. He recalled the Bible story of the seven fat years and the seven lean years, and how the goods had been stored in the fat years to tide over the lean years. This was not the case with public bodies whose history showed that in the good years they spent beyond their income, and then were not in a sound position to face the poor years.

"The municipalities have a hard time ahead of them, but there is real substance in their assets, and I think it will work out all right," he said.

Mr. Baird, in his address, sketched briefly the growth of municipal government in Canada and this province.

BUSINESS FASCINATING
The business of municipal affairs had been most fascinating to him, he said. The study was largely a study of human nature, reflecting the different types of thought in various localities, the success and failure of hopes and aspirations.

The progress of municipal administration in British Columbia during the last twenty years of municipal progress of individuals. While it was supposed to form a cross-section of the intelligence of the people in them, it was not entirely so, rather a cross-section of the intelligence of those who took an interest in municipal interests.

TOSsing A COIN TO VOTE
If referred to "use-your-vote" movements designed to get as many persons as possible to the polls, he scored such policies as having a tendency to make people vote who had to "toss a coin" to decide, through having no knowledge of some of the principles on which they were voting.

The first incorporation in British Columbia was that of New Westminster in 1862, with a president at the head. Victoria followed in 1864, and in the "seventies" there were some incorporations in the Fraser Valley and at North Cowichan. He traced briefly the foundation of municipalities in other parts of the province.

Compared with other provinces in Canada, British Columbia municipalities were doing very well, he said, with few financial failures.

The first municipality in Ontario was incorporated in 1848 and the statutes that province formed the foundation for municipal government west of Ontario.

STATUTORY LIMITATIONS
He outlined the history of the Municipal Loan Fund in Ontario, which operated for twenty years and cost the province $150,000. Some of the money had been loaned to industrial corporations which failed. Out of this experience came the statutory limitations placed on municipalities today.

It was clearly evident that borrowing limitations must be fixed by statute, he explained. While this led to rebellion in some cases, it was necessary. With regard to law-making, there were no home rule for cities, all their power in this connection being delegated from the province to the municipality.

In the United States, he pointed out, this was not the case, the municipalities being supreme within their own boundaries, but they were beginning to realize that a change was needed.

The problems before the municipalities today were mainly financial, he said. The average taxpayer was only interested in the size of his bill, not in the quality of the service he was getting.

Analyzing the tax question, he said there were some municipalities which did not pay sufficient to cover fire protection. Many did not pay enough to cover police service and educational facilities, and his money had to be found somewhere.

Birthday Greetings Are Extended To-day To—

HON. R. L. MAITLAND, K.C.
FRED WM. DOWERY
FRED ORCHARD
MISS DORIS MARTIN
DEAN TUBMAN

HON. R. L. MAITLAND, K.C.
Mr. Maitland, Minister Without Portfolio in the Tolmie cabinet, was born in Ontario, January 9, 1889, and has had a brilliant career since he was called to the bar of British Columbia in 1913, both as criminal prosecutor and counsel in important civil cases. He has held offices in the Conservative Association of Canada and British Columbia since 1911. One of the party's most effective platform orators, he has been one of the strong men of the party in the Legislature since he was elected in Vancouver in July, 1928.

Fred Wm. Doherty celebrated his birthday yesterday. He was born in Thurston, Pictou County, N.S., in 1878. He has lived on Vancouver Island twenty-nine years, of which twenty years have been spent in Victoria. Mr. Doherty is an operator for the B.C. Electric Railway Company and has been seventeen years on the street cars. In his younger days he was a good athlete, specializing in cricket. Hunting was his hobby. He resides at 833 Pender Avenue.

Fred Orchard, a member of the Union Club staff, came to Victoria from Australia before the Great War. He was overseas with the 103rd Battalion, and besides losing a leg was partially blinded in France. This ended his athletic career and he now watches from the sidelines and gives the benefit of his experience to the young players. He has, however, retained his deft touch with a billiard cue. A star of the game in Australia he now, despite his disabilities, plays a game that makes him a dangerous contender in the best of the city. He is a living encyclopedia on sport records, especially turf events.

Miss Doris Martin, 649 Cornwall Street, was nineteen years of age yesterday. She is an athletic girl, and the Maroon basketball team she is one of the speediest players. She also plays a good game of tennis.

BABY DIED SUNDAY
The death occurred yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital of Thomas Stickey, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Stickey, 1028 Main Street. He is survived by his parents, three brothers and two sisters. Funeral services will be held from McCall Bros. Funeral Home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

ACCUSED YOUTH MAKES ESCAPE
W. McLean, Questioned About
Alberta Slaying, at Large in Tennessee; Father Held

Associated Press
Knoxville, Tenn., Jan. 9.—William McLean, twenty-one-year-old Tennessee, who has been sought by Royal Canadian Mounted Police to face a charge of slaying W. J. Parsille, Alberta farmer, was still at large today after effecting his escape from the county jail here.

McLean escaped with a companion Saturday after they had saved the bars of their cell. The Mounted Police had trailed McLean and his father, Kenneth, now in jail in Chattanooga, on the same charge, from a point in Saskatchewan to Tennessee.

Edmonton, Jan. 9.—Two Royal Canadian Mounted Policemen at present in Knoxville, Tenn., in connection with the arrest of Kenneth McLean and his son, William, taken into custody for questioning regarding the slaying of Walter J. Parsille, Mannville, Alberta, farmer.

According to the police, the McLeans worked for a farmer, Joseph Stewart, during harvesting time last fall. Stewart threatened Parsille's grain with the aid of the McLeans, who police said, claimed their names to be Shea at the time.

Following the finding of the body of Parsille, police traced the McLeans to East End, Sask., and from there to the United States. It was believed they fled from Canada in a stolen car, officials said.

Parsille was found shot to death October 2, lying on the doorstep of his home. A bullet wound was found in his back and it was believed he had been slain the night of September 30.

It is understood extradition proceedings will be started shortly to bring the father and son back to Canada for trial.

COAL MARKETS BEING SOUGHT

G. H. C. Stewart of Hull Blyth
& Co., Says Other Carriers to Follow Nordbo

Ships Bringing Coal Here
From England Will Return
With Grain Cargoes

Shipping of "coals to Newcastle" became an established fact with the arrival at Victoria today of the freighter Nordbo with 6,000 gross tons of British coal for marketing in this province.

The delivery of this and successive cargoes of British coal, however, is not antagonistic to production in British Columbia, it was distinctly stated this morning by G. H. C. Stewart, representative of Hull Blyth and Company Limited, one of the "Big Four" of Great Britain's coal producers, who is in Victoria in connection with the arrival of the Nordbo.

INTERCHANGE OF GOODS
"We are of the opinion that there is a market for British coal in British Columbia," said Mr. Stewart in an interview at the Empress Hotel.

"Under the proposals for Empire trading we are interested in the interchange of goods. We are not in competition with anyone, but we are a good British product within reach of the consumer. Apart from my connection with Hull Blyth and Company, I am interested as a shareholder in British shipping companies."

"We can't afford to send tonnage out here in ballast through the Panama Canal to pick up wheat or general cargoes, so we are utilizing bottom to bring coal cargoes here and return home laden with Canadian products."

CANADIAN COMPANY
"We are here not as an old-time British concern," added Mr. Stewart, "but as a Canadian company incorporated as Hull Blyth and Co. (Canada) Limited."

With Mr. Stewart here today is C. C. Labrie, of Vancouver, formerly associated with the Canadian National Railways, who is a director, and H. N. Stevenson, of the Canadian Transport Company, also a director.

W. S. Campbell of Victoria is general sales agent for the Hull Blyth and Co. (Canada) Limited, having charge of the Vancouver Island territory.

CONTINUITY OF SUPPLY
"We are guaranteeing continuity of supply," said Mr. Stewart when asked regarding further shipments of British coal to British Columbia. "Tonnage has been arranged for a year, with two other vessels in line, the next being the Silverway."

Hull Blyth and Company Limited of London has branches at Glasgow, Cardiff, Swansea, Hull and Newcastle-on-Tyne. The Nordbo loaded her cargo at Leith, Scotland. Part cargo is being discharged at Pier 2, Rihet Docks, while the greater part of the shipment will be delivered at Vancouver. Larger shipments will be delivered in Victoria by future vessels.

INDUSTRY REVIVING
"The British coal industry, which has suffered heavily since the Great War, is now showing signs of recovery," Mr. Stewart stated.

"The industry has been seriously hampered by Poland and the Baltic countries against us," he said, "but we are already getting the market revived. We have arranged for cargoes to Latvia, adjoining Poland, which is an indication that the superiority of British coal is again being recognized."

LAST RITES CONDUCTED
Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Miss Rose Jane Soper, who passed away at the family residence on Jan. 7, at 104 Leith Street. A large gathering of relatives and a large gathering of friends were present. Dr. Clem Davies officiated. The following acted as pallbearers: G. Macdonald, Dr. P. Roberts, A. Bassett, Sidney Thomas, G. Holt and P. S. Friend. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park.

ASK SUPPORT OF SEED FARM
Support of the provincial seed and potato show, to be held in the Crystal Garden from January 18 to 21, was sought by the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce in a letter read at the luncheon of the directors in the chamber today.

Rev. M. W. J. Bruce, chairman of the agricultural committee, in the letter asked approximately 350 exhibitors were expected from all parts of the province. Prizes would be provided by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, in conjunction with the Dominion Seed Branch. A special estimating contest would be open to all visitors to the fair, it was stated.

PAY FINAL TRIBUTE
Many friends paid final tribute at funeral services conducted Saturday afternoon for Frederick Green. Rev. John Robson conducted an impressive service, assisted by Rev. E. F. Church during which the hymns, "From Every Stormy Wind That Blows" and "I Know Not What The Future Hath," were sung.

A very large number of beautiful floral tributes were received, testifying to the high esteem in which Mr. Green was held. The following acted as pallbearers: Paul Stanley, Wilfred Gerald, Harold and Ivan Green, all sons of the deceased. Interment was in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

THREE ADMIT
TAKING GOODS TO INTRODUCE
GAS BY-LAW

Two plans for early closing of gasoline service stations probably will be laid before the City Council this evening when the introduction of a by-law on the point is scheduled.

One will be the proposal of Alderman P. R. Brown, finance committee chairman, for a provision that gasoline may be sold after hours to a person with less than five gallons in his tank. The other is that advanced by the dealers to provide for half the stations in the city remaining open at night on alternate weeks.

The legislative committee of the council was expected to discuss the question this afternoon.

Owing to the failure of dealers to agree over the terms of the proposed by-law governing emergency service for the public, one suggestion advanced in City Hall circles this morning was that the problem be solved by the city establishing a central gas station which would operate from 8 o'clock at night until 7 o'clock in the morning when all other stations would be closed. Some data has been secured of a municipality in the United States which operated on a similar basis.

The first meeting of the New Year of the Victoria Round Table has been postponed from January 10 to January 17.

None of the trio charged had been in trouble previously. They made no remarks in court about their actions. Detectives Jarvis and Woodburn were complimented for their efforts.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Ambitious Schedule Being Carried Out By Portland Cagers

Gene Sarazen Shoots 42 With Sand Blaster to "Take" Scribes

N.H.L. Teams Should Forget About Using Defensive Tactics

WITH eleven games in thirteen days the Multnomah Athletic Club basketball team at present touring Vancouver Island, is engaging in one of the most ambitious programmes ever arranged for a squad on this island. The "Winged" "M" hoopers will engage the Blue Ribbons here to-morrow evening. This is the eighth tour of a team coached by Ray Brooks, veteran mentor, and the fourth trip by a Multnomah Club quintette. A few years back Brooks used to bring his famous Checkerboards to Victoria.

On arrival in Victoria last week Brooks looked up his many friends. Despite the depression and the heavy expense, we are pleased to make this trip principally because of the warm welcome we are always given by the residents of Victoria and the Island, and we did not wish to disappoint them this season. Brooks has brought a light team north this year, the average weight being less than 140 pounds.

In the four years the Multnomah Club teams have played in Victoria only one game has been lost—that to the Victoria Commercial last season. To-morrow night the Portlanders will go up against Blue Ribbons, composed of last year's Commercial, with high hopes of securing revenge. The Victoria players are just as anxious to make it two in a row, and as a result a rattling good game should be witnessed.

An interesting story has come to light of how Gene Sarazen, famous U.S. pro golfer and winner of the U.S. and British open championships last year, used a sand blaster and "took" three newspaper boys by shooting a forty-two. The novel match took place at Miami, Florida. The par for the course is thirty-five. To come within seven strokes of par with a sand blaster is so amazing as to be almost unbelievable. A sand blaster, which is nothing more than a machine which blows sand, has a normal range of about 100 yards. It is used solely for getting out of traps. But Gene, by laying up the face, made a mashie out of the club, and averaged 130 to 160 yards on his drive.

And yet, with this club Sarazen made two holes in par, was never more than one over par, was never in a trap, never three-putted a green, and was never in the rough save on those occasions when he elected to leave the fairway to save distance. Sarazen played the unique round on a water with three strokes. Gene said he never made it in forty-five or better. They said he couldn't. Sarazen was forced to pull off several spectacular shots and finally wound up with his total of two, following which the newspaper boys paid their wagers.

Trouble still threatens in the National Hockey League over the defensive tactics adopted by the Boston Bruins on several occasions. Montreal Canadiens have said they will adhere strictly to defensive tactics in all future games they play in Boston. Hockey suffered tremendously as a result of Boston's actions, and the same will happen again if the teams fail to see the writing on the wall.

Hockey has been hit hard by the depression and cannot afford to lose the confidence and support of the public. Several years ago Boston and Pittsburgh staged the most foolish game ever played in the latter city. Both teams played man for man with nothing but a lot of checking, and Pittsburgh won 1 to 0. Everybody knows what happened to hockey in Pittsburgh.

All the owners should realize that they owe it to the paying public to keep the play wide open. Lester Patrick, president of the National Hockey League, and Connie Smythe, manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs, have both issued instructions that their teams must continue to launch earnest attacks irrespective of whether or not they are on the long end of the score, and a glance at the records will show that both these teams are heading the standings.

Scores Second Win In Two Nights To Deadlock Rangers

After Beating Toronto 6 to 1 Saturday Red Wings Trounce Boston 3 to 1

RANGERS IN TIE WITH AMERICANS

Four-goal Scoring Spldrge in Second Period Gives Chicago Win Over Maroons

Detroit Red Wings knocked over Toronto's Maple Leafs 6 to 1 Saturday night, crushing the world champions as thoroughly as they have been crushed in many a day. This ride to victory was helped along by the fact that Joe Primeau and Charlie Conacher were absentees from the Leaf lineup. Primeau had tonsillitis and Conacher an injured shoulder.

There was nothing physically the matter with the hefty Boston Bruins yesterday evening, and the Wings left them stranded in third place with a 3 to 1 defeat that hoisted Jack Adams' boys up to a deadlock with the New York Rangers.

In each game the Wings snatched victory with a second-period spurt. Eddie Goodfellow, Eddie Wiseman, Happy Emms and Laurie Aurie banged in goals against Toronto in the middle and last periods, while the Bruins scored in the first and second periods.

Montreal's Maroons battled vainly to pull a win over Chicago yesterday evening, but the Black Hawks had run in four in the second period. They lost 4 to 3.

New York, Jan. 9.—New York Americans knocked their townsmen, the Rangers, loose from their undisputed hold on first place in the American Division of the National Hockey League yesterday evening when they twice came from behind to gain a 2 to 2 tie in the second intra-city battle of the season.

A capacity crowd of 15,000 saw the fast, hard-fought game. The tie left Americans with a chance at the city title and dropped the Rangers into a tie for the lead with Detroit Red Wings.

Bill Cook counted for the Rangers early in the second period and Red Jackson tied the count near the end of the frame. Ching Johnson's terrific shot from the blue line put the Blue Shirts ahead again in the third period, but Johnny Sheppard tied it up again six minutes later on passes from Wasmie and Himes.

The game was hard fought, as are American-Rangers clashes, but the penalty bench did not do a thriving trade. Nine penalties were called during the seventy minutes of hockey that never lagged in excitement.

LINE-UPS
Rangers—Aitkenhead, Heller, Johnson, Boucher, W. Cook, F. Cook, Sube, Somers, A. Siebert, Dillon, Murdoch, Keeling, Amundson, Pettenger, E. Seibert, Brennan.

Americans—Worters, Dutton, Brydges, Himes, Wasmie, Sheppard, Sube, McVeigh, Martin, Jackson, Filmore, Patterson, Starr, Phillips, Ayres, Dutkowski.

Officials—Mallinson and Cameron.

STUMMAY
First period—No score. Penalties, Somers, Ayres, Dutton.

Second period—1, Rangers—W. Cook (Boucher), 24; 2, Americans—Jackson (Filmore-Veigh), 18:28. Penalties, (Turn to Page 17, Col. 1).

W. Jubb, 92, and George Washington Brown, 80, End Bout in Deadlock

Contestants All in at End of Fourth Round; 2,000 Spectators Cheer Pair

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 8.—William Jubb, ninety-two, and George Washington Brown, eighty, squared off for the "whisker-weight" boxing championship of America here Saturday and at the end of four rounds both aspirants were locked in an embrace on the floor of the ring as 2,000 tourists cheered. It was called a draw.

Jubb and Brown boast chin whiskers of the Kentucky colonel type, and through the four rounds both vainly tried time and again to reach the button.

They were called to the centre of the ring for instructions by Charles W. Bridge, the ten-year-old referee. "Boys" danced around each other like banians, sparring for an opening and falling in a clinch that wound up on the floor.

The McGill team of Jack Houghton, Billy Ball, Frank Campbell, Harry Pangham and George Scott covered the treacherous eighteen and three-quarter mile course in two hours twenty-two minutes and forty-nine seconds. The University of Milan, Italy, was second, the University of Zurich, third, the University of Zurich, fourth and Cambridge University fifth.

Honors in the meet between McGill and Oxford and Cambridge universities went to the combined English team by the margin of 100 points to 99. Frank Campbell, Canadian Slalom and British Langlauf champion, won both the Slalom and Langlauf tests in the three-event competition. The downhill race going to Oxford and Cambridge.

Jeby appears just as fit as Battaglia and the fans have visions of a spectacular slugging match with a knockout as a strong probability, one way or the other. Battaglia has already smashed the New Yorker into unconsciousness, doing it last March with one punch in the first round.

Curiously enough the well-known omen of bad luck, number thirteen, has played a prominent part in the career of the Winnipeg boy. But it has proved anything but unlucky for Frankie.

The Winnipeg brawler meets Ben Jeby, popular New York east-side slugger, for New York State Athletic Commission recognition as world champion at the weight.

FEATURE RUGBY LONDON TECS MATCHES DRAWN BEATEN TWICE

Scottish and Gunners Fail to Settle Argument, Finishing in 6 to 6 Tie

Wanderers Hold Navy Scoreless; J.B.A.A. Senior "B" Squad Deadlocked

Four out of five Victoria senior A rugby squads ran around in the mud on Saturday and went to the showers with the final results of their efforts amounting to nothing. Out to decide the issue of their drawn game at the beginning of the season, Canadian Scottish and the Fifth Brigade finished in a 6 to 6 tie at Oak Bay Park, while the Navy and Wanderers played to a scoreless draw at the Canteen grounds.

Ground conditions and slippery balls prevented good rugby, but both battles were keenly fought.

Twice the Scottish went into the lead in the match at Oak Bay Park and twice the Gunners evened the count. The Fifth almost snatched a victory when Roddy McInnes' kick for extra points from the second try shot towards the posts, but the charging highlanders snatched the ball out of the air to avert a decision.

GOOD RUN
Early in the first half the Gunners broke away on a pretty three-quarter run, the backs handling well in spite of the greasy surface of the ball. Le-Marquand was forced out at the Scot's twenty-five and Campbell Forbes led a dribbling attack back.

The Scots kicked over and one of the Gunners touched down for a safety kick. The clansmen returned and forced over but again the artillerymen touched down.

The Gunners swept up the field on a driving attack, but were held out until Hocking and Forbes relieved with a kick-and-run play. Copeland was forced out on a good wing run as the Scots again took up the offensive.

McInnes touched down as the highlanders forced over the Scottish returner the kick. Campbell Forbes tried a penalty drop for goal and the highlanders, following up, secured when it fell short. They put the ball at their feet and kicked it out to the wing. Hocking raced down the sideline, scooped up the loose ball and dived across, skidding over the line on his chest for the kilties' first try. C. Forbes missed the kick from a difficult angle.

Kinman cleared a good dribbling rush just before half time.

Scottish secured from a line-out on the Gunners' twenty-five. Henderson, Kinsman and Boorman handled before Copeland secured and raced over at the corner for the Scot's second and last try. Again the kick failed and last try. Again the kick failed and last try. Again the kick failed and last try.

Wanderers held Navy scoreless; J.B.A.A. Senior "B" Squad Deadlocked

The Gunners uncoiled a series of smashing rushes to force to the Scottish line. Stipe got over from a scrum after a sustained attack to even the score. McInnes made a good attempt for extra points, but the charging Scots batted the ball down as it soared for the uprights and the score was tied.

Play was fairly even for the remainder of the game.

Bill Ellis refereed and the teams lined up as follows:

Fifth Brigade—McInnes, Haddon, Pease, Spencer, LeMarquand, Skilling, Stipe, Buller, Wharlock, Cox, Engle, Eastham, Dickinson, M. Patrick and Dowell.

Canadian Scottish—Colgate, Copeland, Henderson, Kinsman, Hocking, Stipe, Buller, Wharlock, Cox, Engle, Eastham, Dickinson, M. Patrick and Dowell.

Wanderers—the Navy. A missed penalty kick from the thirty yard line by Bruce Robinson, Navy fullback, mid-way through the second half, was one of the several highlights of the game at the Canteen grounds, where the Wanderers once more apparently gave notice of a late season rally.

Robinson made a fine drop kick of it, but the ball passed to one side of the posts, and the result of the game was still left open as far as the spectators were concerned. Incidentally, Robinson played one of the best games of his career and was thoroughly deserved to be the hero of the game.

The Wanderers started the game on the offensive and principally through their classy forward line, carried the play deep into Navy territory. Haines, the Oak Bay team's prize three, got through twenty-five yards to within inches of the Navy line, but was brought down cleanly by McDonald and an otherwise certain score was averted.

Scrum followed in quick succession on the Navy ten yard line, but the Navy were able to hold, and when the game finally was Robinson booted one of his fifty-yard punts up the field.

The last Navy three, who looked dangerous all through the game, failed to meet Bruce Robinson's challenge.

Canadian Minor Hockey Entry Drops Games to Buffalo and Syracuse

Windsor Turns Back Cleveland; Rhode Island Reds Whip Philadelphia

Syracuse, N.Y., Jan. 8.—Syracuse defeated London's Tecumseh yesterday evening 2 to 1, to enter a deadlock for first place in the International Hockey League. It was the second week-end defeat for the Tec, who lost to Buffalo 7 to 6 Saturday evening.

Dave Downie and Jack Markle scored once each to give Syracuse its second home victory over London this season. Ferrand Gillie netted the only London tally.

Providence, R.I., Jan. 9.—Two unassisted goals, one in the first period by Guy Hart and the other in the third by Art Alexandre, brought the third shutout of the season to the Rhode Island Reds as they defeated Philadelphia Arrows, 2 to 0 here yesterday evening.

The victory put the Reds in second place alone in the Canadian-American League, for they forged ahead of the Arrows with whom they were deadlocked before the game started.

Kansas City, Jan. 9.—A sizzler from the stick of Metcalfe brought the St. Paul Greyhounds a 4 to 3 win over Kansas City in an American Hockey Association game yesterday evening. The winning tally came near the close of a second ten-minute overtime period.

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 8.—In a tough and speedy hockey game, Duluth defeated St. Louis 5 to 3 here Saturday night, the Hornets scoring their first win of the American Association season from the Flyers. The Hornets had a wide advantage in offensive play throughout the game.

The victory puts the Hornets in sole possession of third place in the association.

Cleveland, Jan. 9.—Windsor Bulldogs trimmed Cleveland Indians in a rugged International Hockey League contest Saturday night 4 to 2. Al Huggins scored twice for the Bulldogs in the opening period and assisted Proudlock in one of the latter's two goals in the third period.

No International Polo Engagements

London, Jan. 9.—Brig-Gen. T. H. S. Marchant, secretary of the Hurlingham Club polo committee, states the Hurlingham Club would not challenge the United States for the Westchester Cup this year.

"No international matches will take place in 1933," Brig-Gen. Marchant said.

Following the meeting of the Victoria and District Football League to-night at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 o'clock the Jokers team will hold a session. All members of the executive and players are asked to be in attendance.

Sunderland Wins On Carter's Goal Minute From Time

Last-minute Goal Defeats Arsenal, English First Division Soccer Leaders

MANY PLAYERS OUT OF ACTION

Chelsea Secures Transfer of A. Craig From Motherwell; Games Draw Well

London, Jan. 9.—Week-end games of the English Football League First Division saw Arsenal, leaders, beaten for the second time in six days, while Sheffield Wednesday crept to within two points of a first-place deadlock by virtue of a scoreless draw with Derby County.

Aston Villa, in third place, was a single point back of the Wednesday, after winning 1 to 0 from Bolton Wanderers.

Influenza and injuries played havoc with several teams, hitting hardest Chelsea, Huddersfield Town and Blackburn Rovers.

Chelsea secured transfer from Motherwell in the First Division of the Scottish League of the international centre half, A. Craig, to replace O'Dowd, who was injured.

Sunderland thrilled 35,000 persons at Roker Park by taking the Gunners 3 to 2, after being on the light end of a 2 to 1 score at half time. Sunderland opened a vigorous attack which failed to penetrate Arsenal's stone wall defence. Lambert scored twice for turners on clever solo efforts and Galtcher notched a single for Sunderland.

HAPGOOD INJURED
Gunners were handicapped after the interval by an injury to Hapgood, outside left, which had him limping through the rest of the game. Galtcher scored his second goal to tie the count and Carter won the game with a fine drive from twenty yards out, one minute before the final whistle.

Huddersfield Town came down from the north and took Chelsea 1 to 0 at Stamford Bridge before a crowd of 25,000. It was a scintillating sort of game with centre forwards somewhat overshadowed by the hard work of the half backs. J. Smith won the game with a header from Beaumont's centre with three minutes to go.

In the second division Tottenham Hotspurs scored a great win over Stoke City, 3 to 2, to displace them in second place. Stoke's goal was scored from a header from Beaumont's centre with three minutes to go.

Spurs and Stoke started evenly and there was no scoring for the first quarter-hour. Then O'Callaghan gave Spurs a lift by holding a forward pass to Hunt which the latter caged with a half-stiff shot. Davies knocked Stoke's goal and Hunt headed it in with two minutes to go.

GREAT FINISH
Stoke started a vigorous attack in the second half. Liddle scored and shortly afterwards gave Wrexham a forward pass that enabled him to tie the score. The finish was a thriller. Calhoun booted a high centre near Stoke's goal and Hunt headed it in with two minutes to go.

Chatterfield surprised spectators when, after being outplayed for the first half-hour by Bradford City, division leaders, they got the first goal on Lee's header. Peel tied the score three minutes before half-time.

Peel scored two more in quick succession. Then Maltin tallied for Chatterfield as his team showed fight. Ormandy got the final goal, making the score 4 to 2.

Wantsford stayed at the top of the southern section of the third division by a 1-to-1 draw with Torquay United, but the feature game of the section was that in which the lowly Aldershot team dropped out of the fifth place.

Roberts scored first for the Palace to place his team in a lead it held till half-time. Aldershot came back smartly in the second half and scored three goals in eight minutes. Gamble got the first with a header from Fishlock's corner. Fishlock the second with a solo effort and Lane the final from Proud's centre.

Chester remained at the head of the table.

WORLD TENPIN RECORD IS SET IN VANCOUVER

M. Gerrard Sets Endurance Mark By Rolling 135 Games in Sixteen Hours

Has Splendid Average of 165 10-13; Takes Only Two Five-minute Intervals

Vancouver, Jan. 9.—Marie Gerrard, sensational ten-pin exponent, hung up a new world record for endurance here during the week-end when she strung together 135 continuous games. She made the creditable average of 165 10-13.

The previous mark was 130 games, this record having been established in Detroit several years ago by a woman who averaged 168.

Mrs. Gerrard rolled on LaSalle runways and commenced her record-breaking performance at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. She required slightly more than sixteen hours to complete the 135 games, taking only two five-minute intervals for meals.

She is considered the leading woman bowler in the Pacific Northwest and is equally adept at five pins.

BOTH MEN ARE KNOCKED COLD

Wrestling Bout Between Anderson and McGregor Comes to Sudden Ending

When both men were knocked out cold after meeting head-on when they decided to use a flying tackle at the same time, the main event on the wrestling card at the Tillicum gym on Saturday evening between Des Anderson, Seattle, and Bob McGregor, New Mexico, ended in a draw. Both men had secured one fall. In the semi-windup Gus Johnson, Illinois, scored a one-fall victory over Dave Vader, Chicago.

The local preliminary between Pat Griffin and Johnny Pears ended in a draw, neither being able to secure a fall in the three rounds.

The sudden ending of the main event came as a big surprise to the fans. Anderson had secured a fall in the second round with his new "juggler" hold. Picking McGregor up by the back of his neck, he swung him around and then dropped on him for a body slam and then passed out. Neither was able to get his feet after three minutes and the bout was declared a draw. Both men came to after being worked on in the dressing room.

In the semi-windup Johnson took the only fall in the third round with a leg hold and body press.

LAKE HILL HOOP TEAMS WIN PAIR

Lake Hill hoopers took two games from Luxton Friday night at the Lake Hill gym. In the opening game the Luxton men pressed hard on the K. of P. team who jumped into the lead at the start. The visiting team stayed close to the hill team up to the last five minutes when the home squad went on a scoring rampage, winning the game 47 to 33.

In the second fixture the Luxton women dropped a hard-fought game to the home fair set by a score of 32 to 22. The visiting girls played nice combination but were unable to win against a much stronger team.

Guest Tops Field In Southern Golf

New Jersey Pro Has Thirty-six Hole Score of 139 in Los Angeles Open; Diegel, Wood and Hunter in Second Position, One Stroke Behind

Los Angeles, Jan. 9.—Charlie Guest, straight shooting New Jersey golfer, was three under par at the end of the second round of the Los Angeles open yesterday and a stroke ahead of the best of a big field with a thirty-six hole score of 139.

A crowd of 5,000 saw him shoot a 69 to shave a stroke from his 70 Saturday to come through in front for the first half of the competition for more than $5,000.

Guest was hard pressed by three other experienced professionals, Leo Diegel, representing Old Mexico, Graef Wood, fellow townsmen of Guest, and Willie Hunter, Los Angeles, who were only a stroke away, compiling 140 for the two days' play.

Hunter turned in the best round of the second day with a sparkling 68, getting a par four on the home hole. Gene Sarazen, United States Open and British open champion, could not get going yesterday and was only a stroke better than his first round, his thirty-six hole total standing at 147.

Harry Cooper, Chicago, who holds the Canadian open title, shot himself out of the contest by adding a 78 to 77 Saturday. Mortie Dutra, with a total of 152, and Johnny De Forest, British amateur champion, with the same score, also failed to qualify.

Thistles and Wests Battle To Draw In Sea of Mud

No Overtime In Cup Soccer When Teams Exhausted

Association Cup Fixture Ends in 2 to 2 Deadlock After Fine Exhibition

ROBINSON NETS PAIR OF GOALS

Teams Tied 1 to 1 at Half-time; Thistles Revamp Line-up For Important Match

Playing in the preliminary round of the Association Cup the Victoria West and Saanich Thistles, Coast League football eleven, fought to a 2 to 2 draw at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon. With the field covered with mud and a heavy rain falling throughout the ninety minutes of play the officials decided against playing overtime, owing to the players being in a near exhausted condition at the end of the regulation session. The match will be replayed at a later date. The teams were deadlocked 1 to 1 at the interval.

Although the field was in a miserable state the clubs put on a fast exhibition. They were evenly matched although the Wests had a little better of the play throughout but failed to take advantage of all their scoring opportunities. The Thistles presented a changed line-up with Joe Crowe at centre-half, Viggers at outside right and Sammy Easler in one of the full-back positions. The revamped team worked fairly well, although Viggers seemed lost at the outside position. He has been playing centre-half most of the time.

Rushing the ball into Wests' territory from the centre-off the Thistles looked dangerous in the first few minutes. Price beat two men and placed a hard shot dead on goal but Marley was in position and cleared. After ten minutes George Leggett arrived and took his place at left full-back. Saville going off and Viggers moving to right wing. The Wests took up the attack and Youson got close in only to shoot wide. The Thistles forced a corner off Thompson only to have Jim Crowe kick behind. Youson rifled a shot across the goal mouth that missed the post by inches. Marley was lucky to stop a low bouncing shot from Joe Crowe, fumbling the ball but blocking it with part of his body and pushing it behind for a corner.

SCORE FROM PENALTY

Sweeping the ball down the field from Thompson's clearance of the corner kick, the Wests forced a corner off Goale Wilmshurst. Muleahy drove in a high shot, Art Duncan blocking it with his hands. Referee Swan blew for a penalty. Robinson placed the ball into the corner with ease for the opening goal of the match. Shortly after Robinson drove in a shot from the penalty line that Wilmshurst pushed over the bar. The referee pointed for a goal kick much to the disgust of the fans, who booed the decision. The Thistles missed a great chance to tie the score when Marley and Viggers were right through and the former drove the ball against Marley and it rebounded clear.

Peers sent in a long drive that was headed for the corner until Wilmshurst tipped it over the top. The Thistles finally got back on even terms when Marley in attempting to clear a shot after Wright, right fullback, had miskicked, booted the ball against Viggers and it rebounded into the net. The Thistles forced two successive corners following which the half-time whistle sounded.

With the start of the second half the Thistles switched their team, Saville replacing Duncan. Play had only been in progress six minutes when the Wests went into the lead on the prettiest goal of the match. Taking a pass on the right wing, Conorton carried the ball down the line and then swung a perfect cross into the goal mouth and Robinson leaped into the air to head the ball into the corner of the net. The Wests continued to hold the whip hand but were unable to get through for additional goals. Duncan

THE SCORE AGAIN

With only ten minutes to play the Thistles again tied the score. Marley beating Marley with a shot from the penalty line that just scraped past the post. The goalie dived in a great effort to save. Peers came close to scoring just before the whistle when his shot hit the crossbar with the goalie beaten.

UNITED STATES GOLF DATES SET

Schedule of Play Announced For Important Tournaments; Herbert Jacques in Office

Advancing of U.S. Open By Two Months Will Work Hardships on Professionals

New York, Jan. 9.—Herbert Jacques, Boston, attained Saturday the presidential post his father held twenty-three years before him as the United States Golf Association quietly carried out the year's business in a brief annual session.

The national amateur championship for 1933 was awarded the Kenwood Country Club at Cincinnati on dates as yet undetermined, and the national open was assigned to the North Shore Club at Glenview, Ill., June 8, 9 and 10, almost a month earlier than usual.

Two other championships were disposed of, the women's annual play going to Kmoor Country Club at Highland Park, Ill., August 28 to September 2, and the public links title hunt to the Eastmoreland Municipal Course, Portland, Oregon, August 1 to August 5.

Only the selection of the dates for the national open provided anything out of the ordinary in the short, calm session. The change was made, President Jacques said in his brief address, to evade "the usual hot weather we have experienced in former years."

PROS OBJECT

Professionals pointed out, however, that hardships greater than a broiling sun will be brought upon them by the earlier dates for the annual play. With the start of the British open set for July 3, the Ryder Cup matches preceding on June 26, professionals who make the trip abroad will compete in the two major international tournaments and the special cup play all within one month in two widely separated nations.

The new dates may work a particular hardship on Gene Sarazen, the professional, who will attempt to defend the two titles he won spectacularly last summer. This year's Ryder Cup team, including Sarazen, will be forced to leave immediately after the U.S. open and compete in the cup play at Southport, England, with only a week of practice abroad.

The professionals prefer two weeks of acclimatization and practice in England.

PROMISES CO-OPERATION

He regretted that many clubs of the association were in financial distress, with a marked increase in public links play, but promised hearty co-operation with member clubs despite curtailment of the activities of the green section, which made valuable progress in the development of putting green grasses and turf.

He said the sectional qualifying method of determining both the amateur and open playing list had proved satisfactory and he believed the "1.00-1.02" ball developed by a committee he headed and put into play January 1, 1932, had lived up to all expectations.

TORCHY PEDEN IN HARD FALL

Victoria Rider Uninjured in Spill at Dortmund; in Eighth Position

Dortmund, Germany, Jan. 9.—"Torchy" Peden, giant red-haired Victoria rider, and his German partner, Bernhard Stubecke, dropped back into eighth place in the Dortmund six-day bicycle race after Peden took a hard fall Saturday night. As the race passed the fortieth hour they were still in eighth place, apparently drifting along comfortably, Peden was not hurt.

After 643 miles, Schoen and Busch-enhagen of Germany led the pack with 211 points, followed by Rausch and Hurligen, Germany, with 105.

One lap behind with twenty-five points came Braspening and Wala, Holland, while Peden and Stubecke took things easy two laps behind the leaders with thirty-five points.

Neither "Torchy" nor his partner, famed throughout Germany as a sprinting demon, appeared worried.

They seemed content to follow Peden's usual practice of coasting along easily and finishing with a bang during the last two days.

ROYALS AND SAINTS DRAW

Coast League Football Elevens Play to 2 to 2 Tie in Intercity Engagement

Vancouver, Jan. 9.—After a fine first half display of soccer that gave them a 2 to 0 lead, West-minster Royals fell off badly in the second half and allowed St. Andrews to score twice and tie the score in a Coast League intercity game here yesterday.

Royals showed a beautiful brand of football during the first half of the game and kept the Scots continually penned up in their own goal district. Twenty-five minutes from the start, Royals scored. Todd drove the ball for the goal but with Strong well beaten Bruce managed to toe it as it was going through and turned it around the post. However, a few seconds later Grey placed the flag kick finely for Todd to head the ball to Coulter and the latter nodded it into the net. A few minutes later Royals scored their second counter. McNeil fouled Turner but Carter blocked the free kick. Russell caught the sphere and lifted it over the defence and Turner crashed it into the net.

COSTLY FOULS

Scots cut down the lead two minutes after resumption. Delaney fouled Stephen and from the resulting scrum make from the free kick Manson grabbed the ball and shot it past Sanford for Scots' first marker. Twelve minutes from their first score Scots netted the tying goal on another free shot. Stephen centred high into the goal and as Corlett jumped to head it in Stobart pushed him in the back. Stephen took the kick and drove it in for the last goal of the game.

Royals pressed strongly from then until the final whistle but failed to penetrate a stubborn Scots' defence.

The Hullins have ten points to nine for the waterfront team.

Wheat Prices Dip
On Lack of Exports
And Profit-taking

Winnipeg, Jan. 9.—Profit taking on the grain exchange to-day in the face of lack of export and a lower close at Liverpool, was mainly responsible for losses of 1½ to 1¼ in wheat prices. May closed at 48½, July at 47½ and October at 46½.

Export wheat estimate at less than 500,000 bushels, out of Vancouver. Shipments of wheat from North America last week were the smallest since the second week in September last. World clearances amounted to 11,500,000 bushels, but less than 4,000,000 bushels of this came from Canada and the United States.

Buenos Aires opened to-day after a two-day holiday reflecting strength in other markets during the week-end. Receipts of new crop Argentine wheat are increasing and shippers are offering at prices five to six cents under No. 2 Northern from Vancouver.

Trading in the various grades of cash wheat and coarse grains continued dull and sales were again insignificant.

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 9.—After a show of weakness in the early afternoon, the standard mining market closed strong around the best prices for the day. Mining Corporation which controls the Ashby property, now reported to be making good progress, moved up to 147, a gain of 13.

Tek, Granada and Sisco scored substantial gains. Tek closed at 42½, up from 41½, up 9, and Sisco at 147, up 6 points.

Lake Shore, McIntyre and Dome closed down from 10 to 25, while Macassa, Moss and Kirkland Lake closed around their former level. San Antonio was up from 2 to 5. Premier was strong at 62.

The base metal shares held their ground fairly well.

The penny shares broadened.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—Montreal's Maroons yesterday evening staged a great attempt to accomplish their first victory of the season over Chicago Black Hawks, but failed. They were beaten 4 to 3.

Earl Robinson's goal in the last minute of the first period sent the Maroons into the lead, but in the second frame the Hawks broke loose and piled up four goals. Maroons fought back savagely in the final session, scored two goals and had the better of the going, but fell just shy of a draw.

Paul Thompson tied it up for Chicago early in the second period, and about three minutes later Johnny Gottselig gave the Hawks the lead. Doc Romnes accounted for the next two, the second coming in the last minute of the big Chicago period.

Forty-five seconds after the start of the final period, Jimmy Ward, with Hooley Smith helping him, cut the margin in two and at 13:35 of the frame Baldy Northcott punched in the last one.

The contest was watched by about 10,000 spectators.

Detroit, Jan. 9.—Detroit Red Wings trounced Boston 3 to 1 in a strenuous National Hockey League game here yesterday evening for their second win on successive nights.

The largest crowd at Olympic Arena in two years—13,800—witnessed the bruising game. It might have been expected that after their surprising 6 to 1 win over Toronto Leafs Saturday night the Wings would have been tired. But in a second period in which they drove three goals behind the Bruin netman they showed no sign of listlessness.

First Carson, then Carl Voss and then Eddie Goodenough made shots which baffled Tiny Thompson for goals. The hard-hitting defence on the Wings meanwhile kept the Bruin charges well muffled, just as they had done in the scoreless first period.

But in the third frame Oba Heximer set sail from close by his own net, acquired through the Detroit ranks and beat goalie John Ross Roach for the lone Bruin goal.

There was no repetition of the free-for-all fight that ended the last Bruin-Red Wing game here, but thirty penalties were called during the fray.

Lineups:
Boston—Thompson, Shore, Hitchman; Chapman, Heximer, Lamb, Suba; Barry, Clapper, Galbraith, Stewart, Oiler, Beattie, Burch, Dewa.

Detroit—Roach; Egan, Young; Voss, Lewis, Wiseman, Suba; Hay, Aurie, Emms, Goodfellow, Carson, Buswell, Gallagher, Sorrell.

Toronto, Jan. 9.—Detroit Red Wings speeded to a convincing 6 to 1 triumph over Toronto Maple Leafs Saturday evening as the injury-riddled Stanley Cup holders weakened in the last two periods before a flashy Detroit attack.

The Leafs were without the services of Joe Primeau, out with flu, and Charlie Conacher, ace right winger, who has a dislocated shoulder.

In addition, Andy Blair, second-string centre, could be used only a few minutes at a time. Despite this the Leafs held the Red Wings scoreless in the first period, but succumbed to weights of numbers in the last two periods.

Line-ups:
Detroit—Roach, Young, R. Evans, Voss, Lewis, Wiseman, Suba; Galbraith, Stewart, Oiler, Beattie, Burch, Dewa.

Toronto—Thompson, Shore, Hitchman; Chapman, Heximer, Lamb, Suba; Barry, Clapper, Galbraith, Stewart, Oiler, Beattie, Burch, Dewa.

TWENTY YEARS IN PRO BASKETBALL AND STILL RATED AMONG LEADERS

New York.—Twenty years of minute action on a professional basketball court, in which he has played some 2,300 games, have taken little of the fire of youth out of Pete Barry. The thirty-five-year-old hoopster, who got his start with the Original Celtics when that cage squad was hopping all over the country, can still play plenty of basketball.

Pete—his real name is John—is still doing his daily chores with a basketball team, the Rosenblum-Celtics. The smiling Irishman gives the credit for his long stay in the game to the fact that professional hoopsters do not play the same game as is played in college.

"The college cagers are in there with the old do-or-die spirit," he explains. "Naturally, with such inspiration behind them, they are going to play their hearts out. At such a pace, they can last only a short time."

"But with the professional basketball player, things are different. He is in there fighting to win the game, for his living depends on it. But he goes about winning in a different way."

"He passes to his teammates as frequently as he can, and tries very few long shots. His idea is to get a point or two ahead and then try to keep his opponents from getting the ball."

Though Pete saves himself and seems like an easy-going fellow out there on the floor, when he is coming his way with the ball, most anything can happen to surprise you.

He esees in and out of plays with little effort and his reserve strength makes him a valuable man until the gun is sounded for the end of the game.

In his twenty years on the court, Pete has played every position. His job now, however, is guard, and his 185 pounds are plenty tough to get past.

Some idea of how tough Pete is can be had from the fact that even now lagher, Buswell, Goodfellow, Carson, Emms, Hay, Aurie, and Sorrell.

Toronto—Chabot, Day, Levinsky, Thomas, Cotton and Balle. Suba: Horner, Glancy, Blair, Dorsey, Jackson, Gracie and Adams.

Third period—5. Detroit, Lewis, 12.08; 6. Detroit, Voss, 13.52; 7. Maple Leafs, Cotton (Horner), 16.30. Penalties: Emms, Cotton, Aurie.

Montreal, Jan. 9.—Montreal Canadiens blanked Ottawa Senators, 1 to 0 in a dull National Hockey League game here Saturday evening. Leo Gaudreault scored a goal in the second period while Ottawa was short-handed and Canadiens coasted behind their lead.

Howie Morenz was not in the game. Ill at home with flu, Canadiens started Pete Lepine at centre with Gagnon and Joliat. The Canadiens had the edge throughout, and despite penalties in the third period, put up a stout defence in front of Hainsworth, who scored his third shutout of the season.

Frank Finnegan was in the penalty box in the middle period when Gaudreault scored on assists from Leduc and Giroux.

Line-ups:
Ottawa—Beveridge, Shields, Smith, Weiland, Finnegan and H. Kilrea.

Suba: Starr, Touhey, Cox, Lorey, W. Kilrea, Bourgeault, Forslund and Howe.

Canadiens—Hainsworth, S. Mantha, Burke, Lepine, Joliat and Gagnon. Suba: Mondou, Gaudreault, Leduc, Larochelle, Carson, G. Montha and Giroux.

Iowa Out-of-bounds
High Pass to Bat-in

The best kind of play is the one which is well known to your opponents, which they know is coming and which still succeeds. One of the most successful out-of-bounds plays from under the basket is that which Iowa uses under Coach Roy Williams.

In this play, the important cog is centre (1), who is tall. The line-up calls for one forward (2) to take the out-of-bounds position. The other forward (3) stands inside the free-throw lane, in front of the basket.

No. 1 is outside the free-throw circle. No. 2 starts in toward the ball fast, then breaks toward his right in front of 3. This is a feint to get the defensive centre away from him, for 1 immediately reverses to the left and cuts around five in such a way that the latter becomes a screen for the defensive centre. As 1 comes in, 2 passes the ball high to him, for a ball-in.

This play is fast as a flash and very hard to stop. If it's defense plays in 5 to 0.

toronto, Jan. 9.—University of Toronto wiped Madison Square Garden's ice with the Harvard Crimson Saturday night and finished off the last of the big three by a score of 8 to 1.

The powerful and swift Torontonians made it almost uninteresting for 2,600 spectators who had expected something more like the performances of Yale and Princeton.

Varsity last week whipped both the Bulldogs and Tigers, 3 to 1.

anticipation that I will go to the left of the basket he can go to the right. The man guarding 5 cannot well shift to 1, for that leaves 5 free to receive the pass.

By AL DENARREE
I ran across Kid McCoy, a short time ago, famous old-timer and one of the greatest boxers we ever had.

The "Kid" told me a good yarn about a drink of brandy that saved him.

"I was boxing a big Englishman, Petty Officer Curran, in Nice years ago," said the Kid, "and I got a little careless in the first round and a smash in the mouth sent by bridge work back in my mouth. The punch knocked me down, and before I got my senses I was floored three times more. The bridge was sticking back in my mouth and because of my gloves I couldn't pull it back in place."

"While I was worrying about my bridge I happened to glance down at the timekeeper's table and saw that Col. Boone, an English friend of mine, was being served with a big portion of brandy and soda."

"As I groveled on the canvas I reached out of the ring, seized the glass of brandy and strengthening to me, I knelt, tossed the portion off."

"Immediately there was an uproar. The referee had started the count as I fell, and while I was drinking the liquor he continued the count, waveringly, apparently not knowing what to do about it and giving me several additional seconds to come too."

"I finally got up and won the decision in twenty rounds."

"But was it a foul or not?"

ROY SPENCER TO CLEVELAND

First String Catcher of Washington Senators Traded For Luke Sewell

Washington, Jan. 9.—Roy Spencer, catcher for the Washington American League Baseball Club, yesterday was swapped for Luke Sewell of the Cleveland Indians and an undisclosed amount of money.

Sewell, a younger brother of Joe Sewell of the New York Rangers, was with the Indians for twelve seasons after leaving the University of Alabama in 1921.

Spencer has been with the Washington club for the past four years. First-string catcher last season, he batted .231, and clouts right handed, as does Sewell, who hit .253.

Nanaimo Forms Athletic Club

Nanaimo, Jan. 9.—At a meeting held recently in the War Veterans' Club, it was decided to form an athletic club.

The meeting was addressed by George S. Pearson, M.L.A., who stressed the need of a club whereby the young men of the city would have facilities to obtain proper training which would keep them in good physical condition and uphold the prestige of former Nanaimo athletes.

The speaker referred to such noted local athletes as Dan McLeod and the Swanson brothers, who made a name in the wrestling world. The following officers were elected: Honorary president, George S. Pearson, M.L.A. and John Hunt; president, Dr. Earle Hall; vice-president, W. P. McDonald; secretary, guard, and Dave Banks, forward.

The fourth buddy of Pete's is Nat Hickey, formerly of the Cleveland and Chicago American Basketball League teams.

As a member of the Rosenblum-Celtics this year, he is paired with four other great players. These are members of the original Celtics—Joe Lapchick, centre; Henry "Dutch" Dehnert, guard, and Dave Banks, forward.

Judge Landis Cuts His Salary $10,000

New York, Jan. 9.—Kenesaw M. Landis, commissioner of organized baseball, who drew one of the highest salaries in baseball, $65,000, from 1924 to last year, has voluntarily reduced that amount to $40,000 for 1933.

Commissioner Landis previously had taken a $15,000 "cut" for 1932 and the present $10,000 reduction puts him $25,000 under the amount he has received since he was re-elected for a term of seven years in 1926.

The teams were: Navy—Robinson, Williams, McDonald, Wintelle, Mundle, Bamfield, Freeman, Brewer, Bodger, Barker, Dobson, Corville, Coombs, Nixon and Massingham.

Wanderers—Carmichael, Thornberry, Ellis, Acland, Mead-Robins, Haines, Scott, A. D. King, E. J. Symons, Mayhew, Campbell, Wray, Harneston, Harper and Johnson.
